

CUBAN GOVERNMENT
MADE CONCESSIONSPresident Palma Yielded to Roosevelt's Stern Representations.MODERATE PARTY IS WILLING TO TREAT WITH THE LIBERALS — ABANDONED ITS CONDITION THAT REBELS MUST LAY DOWN THEIR ARMS — TAFT SAYS SITUATION IS BRIGHTER.

HAVANA, Sept. 26.—The government party tonight abandoned its "basic contention" that it is impossible to treat for peace with armed rebels and proposed to negotiate directly with a committee of its opponents. It agreed to leave all points upon which understanding is not reached to the final arbitration of Secretaries Taft and Bacon.

The government first suggested that it would treat with the liberals if they would lay down their arms, but the American commissioners ruled that this stipulation was unfair and the moderate representatives now take this view.

Taft Spoke Hopefully.

While this phase of the controversy was wholly unexpected, Secretary Taft was greatly pleased therewith and made the following statement for publication: "My impression is that we are much nearer a solution of the trouble tonight than we were last night."

It was announced also that the negotiations to be opened between the committees representing the opposing parties would be without reference to the terms previously proposed. This time and place for the first meeting is to be determined by Secretary Taft tomorrow.

Roosevelt Message Did It.

It is beyond question that both parties were brought to a more tractable frame of mind by the verbal ultimatum issued by Secretaries Taft and Bacon today in the name of President Roosevelt, that unless they consented to a fair arbitration the United States must compel the same by temporary military occupation. Such occupation it was declared would not mean American sovereignty. It would continue only until new elections had been held, the new government firmly established and order restored.

Moderates Came to Reason.

Within an hour of the receipt of this ultimatum, the moderate assembly agreed, at the end of a stormy session, to the suggestion of treating with the liberals. The conservative moderates threatened the disruption of the party unless the radicals consented to treat with the American commission, and this is also believed to have an important bearing upon the moderates' decision.

Palma Will Not Quit.

It is understood tonight that President Palma does not intend to withdraw his resignation, but it is predicted that congress will table it indefinitely. The decree convening congress on Friday for the purpose of acting upon his resignation, the president, vice president and others was issued today.

HAVANA, Sept. 26.—Out of the flood of rumors in circulation today, the central fact remains that neither President Palma nor any of the other government officials has withdrawn his resignation, and there is no evidence that they contemplate doing so, notwithstanding excited advice of all sorts from their intimates.

Extremes of Rumors.

The rumors vary from one that President Palma is reconsidering his resignation, to the extreme statement that the government is not only standing firm, but is refusing to resign unless forced to do so, and also that it is notifying all the South and Central American governments that the Cuban republic is being treated most unjustly by the United States and desires the Latin-American republics, unitedly, to protest.

No Conferences Held.

No further conferences between the government officials occurred this morning. The cabinet ministers all say that they are ready to relinquish their posts and that the situation is unchanged.

Counsel General Steinhart and Captain F. H. McCoy, Secretary Taft's aide, called at the palace, but, on leaving, they asserted that their visit was simply an informal call and devoid of significance.

Taft Is 'Optimistic.'

Secretary Taft this afternoon informed the Associated Press that the peace negotiations were well proceeding. He added that the American commissioners consider the Cuban government is still in existence and they are awaiting developments at the session of congress called for Friday next. Asked what his own impressions were today, Taft replied: "You might call me optimistic."

Taft and Bacon today had interviews with Acting Secretary of the Interior Montalvo and others, but they would not divulge the nature of the subjects discussed, nor would Secretary Taft admit or deny that he had communicated with President Palma. Taft said there was nothing new on the subject of proposed landing of American troops.

Session of Congress.

No call for a session of congress Friday has been gazetted, but President Palma today sent a formal letter to the presiding officers of congress announcing the call and its object.

The moderates have agreed to appoint a committee to negotiate for peace, leaving all points upon which no agreement is reached to the arbitration of the American commissioners.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—While not abating in any degree the preparation for transporting troops to Cuba, in accordance with the wishes of the president, the ranking officials here in the army and navy are today still of the opinion that Secretary Taft will succeed in effecting an arrangement which will obviate the necessity for the landing of a single American soldier on Cuban soil. They believe that events in Havana are shaping up directly in accordance with the plans of the secretary of war, and that while the situation appears to be desperate, the present aspect is really only one phase of the program mapped out by Secretary Taft.

Taft's Supposed Plan.

It is believed that his purpose was to clear the field for a complete reconstruction in Cuba, but that this did not necessarily involve intervention in the sense of armed occupation of the island by American troops. President Palma's withdrawal, or least that of the conservative advisers who surround him, was, however, believed to be essential to the working out of this plan.

Provisional Government.

It is conjectured by the officials here that the secretary's purpose is to carry out direct instructions from President Roosevelt and give the Cubans another chance to govern their own island. The only way this could be worked out, they say, would be for him to call together some of the most patriotic and judicious of the Cubans, without regard to party affiliations, and ask them to create a provisional government.

They point out that the insurgent generals would be asked to give their allegiance to this government, temporarily at least, and the military forces of the Palma government would be expected to support it; that the provisional government would be pledged to call new elections under conditions that would insure the control of the permanent government by a majority of the Cuban people, and that if they fail again to maintain order and security in the island, then intervention must ensue, resulting in probable annexation.

Roosevelt Is Expected.

President Roosevelt is expected to arrive in Washington next Monday night and army officers are of the opinion that there will be no sensational developments in Cuban affairs before that time. The president has been constantly in communication with Major General F. C. Busworth, the military secretary, and Brigadier General J. Franklin Bell, the chief of staff of the army, for several days. At the president's suggestion, officers in all parts of the United States have been advised to prepare for a call to service in Cuba, upon which call the men and officers of the army can be ready to sail long before the transportation can be provided for them.

No Transports Secured.

Although President Roosevelt has cautioned the army to be prepared, he has been unwilling to have the quartermaster's department contract for sending troops to Cuba. The unwillingness of the administration to take this final step is regarded by army men as an indication that President Roosevelt still hopes to avoid landing troops on Cuban soil. The war department cannot prepare commercial ships for transport service in less than a week after taking possession of them. Consequently, if there were urgent demands for troops in Cuba at this time, orders to rent steamers for transport would doubtless have been issued before this.

HAVANA, Sept. 26.—The following is the text of President Palma's letter of yesterday to the American peace commissioners, Secretaries Taft and Bacon, Secretary of State Bryan, and Assistant Secretary of State Brown, announcing that he intends to resign the presidency and refusing the peace terms offered to him:

"Honorable Sirs—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of yesterday, the 24th, in which you express in a general way your opinions and points of view, according to your own personal investigation, of the cause of the present rebellion in Cuba, its state and the means to finish it. In order to re-establish peace, order and public quiet in the country, I could raise some objections, and point them to your estimate of the numbers of the armed insurgents and the sympathy to which you consider them entitled. But it is useless now to enter upon a discussion of this kind in view of the course you have adopted and your resolution to make peace by all means."

"It is, therefore, my only purpose, in courteously replying to your note, to report here, in brief, what I expressed in the conference you kindly had with me last night, namely, that I consider the conditions you understand to be necessary for the rebels to lay down their arms contrary to my personal dignity and the prestige of the government over which I preside, and that I have accordingly taken the irrevocable decision to congress my resignation of

HEARST WON!

Nominated on First Ballot By 309 Votes Out of 450.Congressman Sulzer of New York Received Only 124 Votes
—Closing Session of New York Democratic State Convention, Was Marked With Bitterness—

Jerome Will Fight Against Hearst

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 27.—At a session which began at 7:45 last night, and continued until 2:20 this morning, the Democratic state convention nominated a state ticket, with William Randolph Hearst at the head of it. Hearst already was in the field as the gubernatorial nominee of the Independence League, which he was instrumental in organizing.

The Democrats also took from the Independence ticket, Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, of Dutchess, for lieutenant governor, and John S. Whalen, of Monroe, for secretary of state. The other nominees have no place in the Independence League ticket.

Hearst was nominated with 309 votes, of which only 226 were necessary for a choice. Congressman William Sulzer received for governor 124 votes, and John A. Dix of Washington, received the complimentary votes of seventeen delegates, making 450 in all.

The nomination of Hearst was made in the face of the bitterest opposition ever waged in a Democratic convention in this state. The minority, which cast its ballots for Sulzer, has known for several days that it was beaten. This fact was made sure early in the last session, when a test vote on the majority report of the committee on contested seats showed Hearst's supporters to be in absolute control.

Under the guise of advocating the candidacy of Sulzer, a number of Hearst's party opponents took the stage and amid storms of cheering and hisses denounced and arraigned the man they knew was to be the party's candidate, in the most remarkable series of speeches ever hurled at a man to be named for the highest office in the gift of the convention.

The advocates of Hearst answered these attacks, the most effective of the utterances being uttered in his behalf by Congressman Bourke Cockran, of New York, who declared that Hearst was not his personal choice; but that the demand that he be nominated, having come from every section of the state, was not to be denied.

Hearst and there was a storm of cheers.

The majority report was then adopted viva voce.

William Lewis Nixon was elected unanimously as permanent chairman, and he at once called upon Chairman W. Bourke Cockran to submit the report of the committee on resolutions and platforms.

Nearly every paragraph received applause, notably that denouncing the Jewish massacres in Russia.

There were cheers for the paragraph extending felicitations to William Jennings Bryan, but the demonstration was brief.

The platform was adopted unanimously.

Nomination Made.

W. V. Cook of Albany county then nominated W. R. Hearst.

George Ruess of Broome county nominated Congressman William Sulzer. Sulzer's name was given a great ovation, which lasted many minutes. Senator McCaffrey of Brooklyn personally led the demonstration.

Hearst Scored by Raines.

Raines referred to the candidacy of Hearst, and at the mention of the name the delegates began to cheer, the demonstration being far greater than when Hearst was actually named.

Raines charged Hearst with infidelity to every Democratic trust reposed in him and to every Democratic principle contained in the platform which the convention had adopted.

The friends of Hearst and those of Sulzer were constantly arrayed against each other in counter demonstrations.

"A Driver of Men."

The speaker charged Hearst with sending salaried agents throughout the state to form an organization to nominate him for governor. He referred to Hearst as "a driver of men, with a brutal lash."

Raines said that no arraignment he could make of Hearst would compare to the denunciatory speech hurled at that same gentleman by Bourke Cockran at a mass meeting in New York held under the auspices of Tammany hall during the majority contest last fall. The party, he declared, was to be sold out, body and soul.

Protest from California.

A telegram was read by Raines from Timothy Spaulley, Democratic state chairman of California, addressed to Stanchfield, in which Spaulley said that it seemed incredible to the Democrats of California that the New York convention should put forward for governor a man who, at the present time, is using every influence at his command to defeat the Democratic state ticket of California.

Lead cheering followed the reading of the telegram, and there were calls of "Hearst, Hearst," to combat the host demonstration.

Dix Was Named.

Thomas M. Osborne of Cayuga county, one of the originators of the Albany conference of anti-Hearst Democrats, took the platform and placed in nomination John A. Dix of Washington county, a nephew of the late Governor Dix of New York.

"You can sell the Democratic name,"

Jerome Will Fight Hearst.

"If they nominate a decent Republican at Saratoga, I will go on the stump and plead for the defeat of Hearst," declared District Attorney Jerome of New York at the adjourned session of the Albany conference of anti-Hearst Democrats this afternoon.

"I will appeal for his defeat, not on the ground that it is a political issue, but because the issue raised is that of political freedom. We do not think

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Ex-

position marked the second and final day of the Republican state convention. From early this morning, when it became known that Charles E. Hughes, of New York, would be nominated for governor by acclamation, the proceedings became formal and were pushed to completion with the utmost speed. The selection of the remainder of the ticket and the choice of a new state chairman were accomplished before the convention assembled and it only remained for the convention to ratify all that had been done and to adjourn.

Business Was Rushed.

The session of the convention lasted about two hours, and in that time the permanent organization was effected, the chairman, State Senator W. W. Armstrong, of Rochester, delivered his speech, the credentials committee reported and its report was agreed to, and a complete state ticket was nominated.

The speech of the permanent chairman was largely a review of state conditions.

General Stewart, L. Woodford, former United States minister to Spain, reported from the committee of resolutions. He read the platform and emphasized the cardinal features of Republicanism and the feature of its party administration, both state and national. Mention of President Roosevelt in the resolutions and in speeches evoked applause.

Briefly Was In Order.

Briefly was an appropriate feature of the nominating speeches. The principal speech, in which John Hedges, of New York, placed Charles E. Hughes in nomination for governor, was the most interesting event of the proceedings.

Representative Herbert Parsons made the speech proposing the renomination of Lieutenant Governor M. Linn Bruce, the man he had kept from the head of the ticket and whom he praised highly.

Events of the Day.

Events leading up to the nominating speeches were interesting and involved numerous conferences throughout the night. When the opposition to Hughes found it impossible, or at least inadvisable, to nominate Bruce for governor, and began seeking elsewhere for a candidate, defeat for the other time leaders and victory for the new and almost unknown leaders followed swiftly.

The endorsement of President Roosevelt for Hughes and the declaration of Governor Higgins that he was not opposing that preferred candidate, contributed materially to the result, but all this would have been unavailing had it not been for the decided stand which Parsons maintained until the nomination of his candidate crumbled to dust.

THE PLATFORM.

The platform began as follows: "Assembled as delegates to the Republican state convention, we gladly record our pride and confidence in President Roosevelt. We endorse what he has done in fulfilling the wish of the people in protecting both labor and capital, in preventing unfair discrimination in railway rates, in reforming the abuses of trust corporations, in providing for the speedy construction of the Panama canal, in securing pure food laws and uniform municipal laws; and also in elevating the standard of the public service."

"In these splendid achievements he has had the hearty co-operation and assistance of a loyal Republican congress. We congratulate him and the world on what he did for peace between Russia and Japan and also on what he is now doing to compel peace in Cuba. He has fought the battles of the plain people so courageously and successfully that his name is an inspiration in every state campaign and his record is the platform upon which every good citizen is willing to stand. We pledge the Republican party in New York state to follow faithfully in his footsteps."

Higgins Complimented.

The administration of Governor Higgins, it is declared, goes into history as one of the greatest. The state has never known. As the result of the recent insurance investigation, unworthy officials were driven from power and laws have been enacted to secure the protection of policyholders against long existing and widespread abuses.

The faithful enforcement of these laws and their further amendment whenever necessary is promised. The people are congratulated that the direct tax has been abolished and that the fiscal year closes with a working balance in the state treasury of more than $100,000,000.

New York Issues.

"We approve," the platform says, "the legislation granting a substantial reduction in the price of gas to the people of New York city and providing for a commission to prevent the over capitalization and excessive charges of public lighting corporations, and we favor the extension of this policy to the regulation of all public utilities corporations."

The wisdom of the protective tariff is affirmed and it is demanded "that its revision, as occasion may require, be entrusted to its friends and not to its enemies."

Merchant Marine.

Legislation "for the restoration of an American merchant marine so that the hundreds of millions now paid to foreign shipping interests may be paid to our own people, so that our foreign trade may be strengthened and enlarged, and so that we may have an invaluable reserve power of ships and men in case of war" is favored.

"The stand taken by President Roosevelt in his application of the eight-hour law" is endorsed.

Reduction of representation in the electoral college and in congress to offset suppression of the elective franchise is demanded. The platform also says:

"Realizing the natural dangers arising from the alarming growth of mob law, we demand the prompt and adequate punishment of mob instigators and leaders, and we insist upon the just and equal protection of the civil and political rights of all our citizens without regard to race, creed or color. We also place upon record our sincerest sympathy with the suffering and outraged Jews in Poland and Russia."

Passing of Odell.

Lieutenant Governor Timothy L. Woodruff of Kings county was elected chairman of the state committee, succeeding ex-Governor B. B. Odell.

The convention then adjourned.

OYSTER BAY, Sept. 26.—The following telegram, sent by the president after he had been notified of the nomination by the Republican state convention of Charles E. Hughes for governor, was made public here tonight:

"Charles E. Hughes: I rejoice for the sake of the cause of good citizenship in your nomination."

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Charles E. Hughes received the notification of his nomination for governor at his home in West End avenue, with his wife and two daughters. The news came to him in the form of a telephone message from the Associated Press, and a little later the official telegram was received in his office. A telegram from the convention itself.

Immediately he forwarded a formal message of acceptance, through Senator Page.

Hughes was content to allow this message to be his only utterance at this time on the subject of his nomination, a message in which he pointed out that he accepted, without pledge other than to do his duty, according to his conscience, and in which he declared that if elected, it would be his ambition to give "a sane, efficient and honorable administration, free from taint of bossism or of servitude."

He declined to discuss his candidacy or his probable attitude on the issues of the campaign, but said that his public statements during the canvass would be confined absolutely to the platform, which, he expected, would take up much of his time, and to which he was prepared to apply himself.

RAILROAD BRIDGES OVER
PENNSYLVANIA TRACKS
SUDDENLY COLLAPSED.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 26.—A bridge over the tracks of the New York division of the Pennsylvania railroad at State street and Columbia avenue collapsed today as a heavy work car carrying six men was passing over it. The car fell to the tracks below and all the men were hurt, one of them fatally. The bridge fell a few minutes before an express train from New York was due at the bridge, which is partly hidden by a curve.

Third Annual Autumn Opening

Thursday, Friday, Saturday, September 27, 28, 29

To the devotee of style, this Fall exposition of merchandise gathered from the trade centers of the country, will be the centre of attraction the remainder of the week. No matter how much any of us demur at the dictates of dame fashion, all are willing to placate the old lady, and, as dutiful children, religiously follow her teachings—obey her commands. It is our business as merchants to constantly feel the public's pulse and administer the merchandise medicines that the symptoms of society leaders tell us are proper. This is the third annual Autumn Opening we have held; and while each has, in its time, filled all the wants of femininity, this present one will far surpass all its predecessors.

We will leave it to the intelligent public to judge that this style exposition is the best to be expected in Fresno this season.

We have sent out no special invitations, but make this printed announcement a cordial invitation to all to view the newest and best in fashion's realm.

Autumn Opening in Millinery

A short talk on style for the opening days.

The latest advice from Paris is that evening hats are large, of lace and velvet. Blocked velvet hats with lace and Persian silk draped crown are shown in many different styles, as also the French felt or French beaver felts, and any amount of small chic hats for runabout purposes—mostly in blocked and felt shapes with some smart trimming.

Among the new colors and combinations are narghile (new brown shade), cherry-brandy, Burgundy, and Bordeaux (pink shading to dark garnet), Ramier Raton, Toupe and London Smoke in grays, also Myrtle green and a softer shade called Bouclicier. The combination of white and black is much favored, and the new Parline pink is a very good one.

Hats From Paris

Genuine French Imported Hats. No make believes or imitations, but the real article.

French hats from Mme. Core, Suzanne Blum, La Ontine Luce.

America's choicest models in dress and ready-to-wear hats by GAGE of Chicago, Burgess of New York, and last but not least, the product of our own superior work room, which is acknowledged to be without a peer on the Pacific Coast.

Autumn Styles Coats and Suits

The first "different" authoritative display.

"Different" because devoid of frills and furbelous, just a big, broad exposition of styles stamped with the seal of fashion's approval, yet filled with the practicalness that makes them most to be wanted now. The suits and coats women are demanding for immediate wearing—sensible, distinctive individual.

"Different" because of the lowness of the price at which every one is marked. We're most glad of all to mark such little prices on them at the very start of the season, when they will be most welcome to you, when high prices are generally in force.

"Authoritative" because of the scope of the event—big, broad and varied.

Intensely interesting to you because you are thinking of your new fall suit or coat now.

We want you to get the most becoming styles possible. (If you choose from the largest varieties you will be most sure of getting just the style that suits you best). You want to pay as little money as possible, then come to Gottschalk's Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

You're welcome to look, though these days will be big buying days. There are no preliminaries to Gottschalk's merchandising. An opening does not mean simply a showing here. We do not open a season until we are thoroughly ready.

Today we are ready. Hundreds of suits and scores of coats make their opening bow and bid you welcome: just as welcome to look as to buy.

Autumn Opening Dress Goods and Silks

An Exposition of the World's Foremost Weaves

What to wear this season is the subject that is agitating every feminine mind. Trust to our judgment and you will be correct in your selections. In both silks and dress goods plaids have the call. They are in so many color combinations as to make it possible to secure something to please the individual taste and yet conform to Dame Fashion's ruling. However, black good are strong and particularly so in silks. In the Novelty weaves the Voiles and Crepes are most in demand for gowns for fine dress wear, but for street wear the Broadcloths are much in evidence; and as for the long coats, the markers have placed on the market some very stunning weaves in the popular plaid effects—the cloths mostly in heavy weights, yet to a very great extent loosely woven. Our dress goods and silk department can always be depended on to show the very latest and most popular and we have spared no effort to secure the leading weaves from both foreign and domestic manufacturers. It would be impossible to take up line after line and describe them in detail. It is the purpose of this Opening to attract your attention to the grand showing of new merchandise; yet to center your attention it is necessary to select several lines and give them a price that will make it an object to you to purchase now. This we have done, and the big leaders offered for the three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—are of such extraordinary value that you cannot hesitate to make your selections and purchase now.

69c For Plaid Silks Worth 85c

For the three days of our grand Autumn Opening we offer 15 pieces of the very newest fall plaids in Louisiana weaves which will be the most in evidence for waists and suits this season. The color combinations are red, gray, navy, green, black and white; they are firm silks beautifully finished and something that you will appreciate for style and doubly appreciate for quality at the price, for they are 19 inches and cannot be found in any other local store under 85c. We make them a feature at 69c.

98c For Black Taffeta Worth $1.50

A yard wide Taffeta which is a width that cuts to best advantage. We offer two of the standard weaves of $1.50 values; one is a Chiffon Taffeta pure dye with colored selvedge; the other a dress Taffeta; heavy with pleasing rustle yet very soft and durable; both are excellent black; lustrous finish; every thread pure silk and fully guaranteed. ## FACES CHARGE OF FORGERY

V. R. Monges is Before Court on Alleged Check Case.

Case is Postponed for Presentation of New Witnesses for the Defense.

Yesterday's hearing of the charge against V. R. Monges before Judge Smith was watched with interest by several tradesmen of this city who have been victimized recently with bogus checks, and it was hoped that some thing in the evidence might bring forth traces of other alleged crooked doings.

Monges is the man who was arrested two weeks ago on a charge of passing a worthless check in payment during a horse deal. He was released on $1000 bail, and after going into the charge it was found that certain features in the case were legally defective. The charge was therefore dismissed, with the substitution of a new charge on the same complaint. Defendant was represented by Attorney B. T. Wines, and the case for the people was conducted by Deputy District Attorney Nauke.

The first witness called was Benjamin Marks, a tradesman, who testified to selling goods to the value of $4 in the accused. He was paid with a check of $27.50, and handed over the balance in change to Monges. The check was returned from the bank, marked "No Funds."

Constable Dumas told of looking up the matter at Sharon, while Robert Smalley, a bookkeeper of that place, spoke well of the antecedents of the defendant, stating that he had never heard anything wrong against him.

A. S. Hays, assistant cashier of the Fresno National Bank in his testimony, stated that the check for $27.50 was presented at the bank for payment, but there were no funds there to meet the liability. Interrogated by Attorney Wines for the defense, witness said that the endorsement and signature of the check seemed to be in two different hands, but upon this point he could not be positive.

William Burtch of the Paul Meyer lodging house, who next took the stand, stated that he had taken a check for $25 from a man whom he had known for four years. The check was signed by Munson, from whom Monges claims to have received the check upon which the present charge hinges. The handwriting on signature and endorsement, stated witness seemed to be the same. The check was turned down at the bank with the statement that no funds were lodged there for payment. The man whom he gave the check has not been seen since.

Monges, the accused man, as a witness for the defense, took the stand and told a straight forward story. He is a decent appearing man of respectable appearance, the son of well-to-do parents of the Mexican colony, his mother and other relatives owning considerable property on Merced street and near Kings' river. He told of receiving the check from a man named B. E. Munson, which he paid over to another man in a horse trade outside of the Chamber of Commerce on September 17th. He then went on to say where he left the horse, and went into close details of his financial affairs and his general doings. At the suggestion of his attorney, he concluded by showing that he had returned the money when it was learned that the check was worthless, and did not regard the matter in any other light than a civil affair. The loss of the money over the check, he said, would go as profit and loss until he could find out the man from whom he obtained the check.

Attorney Wines moved for a postponement of the hearing until October 22nd in order that corroborative testimony could be obtained, there being two men in particular who were desirable as witnesses. They were William Hensley of Madera, and P. S. Wolf, who had the horse on pasture.

The court acceded to the request and the case was held over until that date.

FRESNO BALL PLAYERS ALL HAVE VOTES

Mike Says Candidates Who Attend Games Will Have Chance to Get Them.

The members of the Fresno baseball team are now citizens of Fresno in the fullest sense of the word. All of the team except Hong and McGregor, who are under age, went up to the county clerk's office today and registered as voters for the coming election.

Mike says that he is glad that the boys got home in time to register, and he promises that candidates who attend the baseball games during the next four weeks will be allowed to solicit votes from the players. All others, he says, will be kept away with a big stick.

Pulmonary weakness ensued and he rapidly sank, despite every care and medical attention. He was a most estimable young fellow, who bore an excellent name among all and had many warm friends among his associates.

Don't buy substitutes for MENNEN'S BORATED TALCUM POWDER. "Just as good" is only a deceit by which a dealer tries to make money out of the superiority and success of MENNEN'S POWDER. There's nothing just as good as MENNEN'S and users of substitutes and imitations risk skin, complexion and comfort in doing so.

Grand Opening

Of Our New Store Today at Tulare and I Streets. Opening Days Will Continue Friday and Saturday. We Extend You a Cordial Invitation and Welcome You To Our New Store. The Finest in the State.

WE WILL OPEN AT 9 A. M. DURING OPENING DAYS

The uncertainty of the exact day of the completion of our new store made it impossible for us to send personal invitations as we intended. We therefore ask that you consider this a personal invitation and honor us with your presence.

We present to you the finest store of its kind in the state of California---a woman's store---where women's wearing apparel is handled exclusively---where you can find from the medium priced garments to the finest that American and European skill can produce, in larger assortments than in many larger stores in larger cities and at lower prices.

But we are willing that the public should be the judge. Come here today and see for yourself---Our past needs no review.

Our success speaks louder than volumes. We could not have succeeded as we did if our methods were not right. We could not have succeeded as we did if our merchandise was not right. We could not have succeeded as we did if we did not price our merchandise right.

But we also wish to say that we could not have succeeded as we did if the ladies of Fresno and vicinity did not appreciate fine wearables as they do.

We therefore feel that our success is as much due to their appreciation of our fine wearables rightly priced as to our own efforts, and desire to thank them.

We want to assure you that our success will inspire us to greater efforts in the future. That we will continue to follow out the same policy in the future that we have pursued in the past---and that we will make every effort to merit your confidence and patronage.

INDIAN AGAIN TRIES SUICIDE

Scalps Himself Butting His Head Against Bars.

Is Now Tightly Strapped to Cot in the Kings County Jail.

John Brown, the Indian prisoner, who made an attempt on his life night before last at the Kings county jail, attempted suicide again this morning by dashing his head against the steel bars of the cell in which he was confined. The outcry raised by fellow prisoners, alarmed Sheriff Buckner and his deputy, Morse, who hurried to the scene of the commotion and as quickly as possible unlocked the door of Brown's cell. As they were doing so, the Indian made a most frantic dash, landing head foremost against an iron obstruction, with such force that he was rendered insensible, but almost immediately recovered consciousness when placed on a cot by the officer. County Physician W. B. Charles dressed the fellow's injuries, which consisted chiefly of a scalp wound, the top of the skull being completely exposed. The Indian does not seem to be insane, but is possessed of a strong determination to take his own life. It was found necessary to strap him firmly to a cot. He is very weak from loss of blood, refuses nourishment, and it is a question as to just what will be done with him. Since his first attempt to kill himself Jailor Morse has kept a close watch over him, and he will have no further chance to suicide.

Miss Minerva Cameron entertained the Needle Club this afternoon, in honor of Miss Anna Hopkins.

John Sanborn and Miss Marjorie Cotter were united in marriage last evening at the home of Charles Latham of Grangeville, Rev. J. W. Mount, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. The ceremony took place under a floral arch, the contracting parties being attended by Dr. O. H. Phillips and Ethel Sanborn, sister of the groom, as best man and bridesmaid. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Oscar Raltsback. The groom, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Sanborn of Grangeville, will reside on his father's ranch, and assume the management of affairs, as the elder Mr. and Mrs. Sanborn will spend the winter in the southern part of the state.

Mrs. Elizabeth Barlow, aged 64 years, wife of Chas. Barlow, died last evening at her home 14 miles northeast of Hartford. She had been ill but a few days, the cause of her death being heart disease. She leaves besides her husband twelve children, all but one of whom are married. They are: C. E. Boyd of Hartford; Mrs. Ed. Anberry, Mrs. Coleman Auberry, Mrs. Fred Baalam of Exeter, Mrs. Thos. Fridley, Mrs. Frank Rice of Dinuba, Joseph Barlo, Wm. Barlo, Traver; Fred Barlo, Dinuba; John Barlo, Bakersfield; Benj. Barlo, of Tulare.

F. G. Cross, manager of the Kings County Creamery, received today a check for $6,495.20, insurance in full carried on the creamery plant recently destroyed by fire in this city. Mr. Cross stated that the work of rebuilding will commence at once and that the new creamery will be constructed of concrete blocks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Sanborn of Grangeville, entertained at dinner today in honor of their son, John E. Sanborn, and wife.

DIDN'T LIKE HOT WEATHER

Sewer Workers Disappear When Sun Beams.

Contractor Tombs Expects to Finish Work in City By February 1st.

Yesterday's hot spell proved disastrous for work on the new sewer system. Contractor S. B. Tombs started in yesterday morning with twenty men and when the sun began to beam down its rays with a little more than its accustomed vigor, the men one by one excused themselves "for a minute" and didn't show up again. When the pay roll was made up last night only fourteen men reported.

Mr. Tombs announced to the workmen last night that the working hours on sewer work hereafter during the warm weather will be from 7 in the morning until noon, and from 2 until 5 in the afternoon, to avoid the hot part of the day. The announcement was received with joy.

Work is rapidly under way, however, and Mr. Tombs states that he will have his portion of the work done by the 1st of February, two months earlier than is required to have it completed. Next week, Mr. Tombs expects a big crew of men from the mountains and will have thirty men at work besides the pipe layers and mortar mixers.

Work is now being done on Ventura avenue from K street north to intersect the pipe laid last spring and it is expected that by the time this stretch of work is completed, the water level will have reached enough to permit of a start at the end of Fresno street where the outfall sewer is to begin.

Besides the mile of pipe laid last spring, Mr. Tombs has laid a quarter of a mile of sewer pipe during the past few weeks. There is still three and three-quarters miles of pipe to be laid within the city, about three and one-half miles being 18-inch pipe and the rest 20 and 24-inch.

SOMETIMES IT DOES!

A Hearty Meal Should Never Annoy or Distress.

A hearty meal should give a sense of gratification and comfort. It should never annoy or distress. If you have indigestion and discomfort after eating, it shows that your digestive organs are weakened and they cannot properly care for the food which has been swallowed. If you cannot eat and digest with pleasure and comfort three good square, hearty meals each day, you need to use Mi-o-na stomach tablets, and you should go to the San Joaquin Drug Company for a box at once.

Mi-o-na is as unlike the ordinary peptic digestive tablet as the electric light is more valuable than a tallow dip. Mi-o-na cures indigestion or stomach trouble by strengthening and regulating the whole digestive system, thus enabling the organs to take care of the food you eat without any distress or discomfort.

Use Mi-o-na for a few days and the nervousness, sleeplessness, general debility and weakness, backache, loss of appetite, headache and other ills that are caused by indigestion will be banished and you will feel well all over.

Mi-o-na makes positive and lasting cures and is sold under an absolute guarantee that the money will be refunded unless the remedy cures. Ask the San Joaquin Drug company to show you the guarantee they give with every 50c box of Mi-o-na.

The dealer who doesn't have DUEBER-HAMPDEN WATCHES may tell you they are not the best. He wants to sell what he has. Before buying, ask the dealer who has them.

"ROTTENNESS AND RIOT."

"If I must choose between rottenness and riot," said Bourke Cockran, seconding the nomination of Hearst last night, "I must choose riot." So, in despairing acknowledgment that his party had at last been reduced to these two elements, he chose the less evil, and himself nominated riot for governor. But Jerome, leader of the faction which Cockran called "rottenness," only the day before referred to Cockran's riot faction as "a gang of disreputable crooks." Thomas M. Osborne, facing the Hearstites, said last night, "You can sell the Democratic name, its emblem and its organization, but you cannot sell the Democratic voters." Senator Ruess said "The party was to be sold out, body and soul," and charged W. R. Hearst with "infidelity to every Democratic trust and to every Democratic principle." Theodore A. Bell, Democratic candidate for governor of California, in Fresno last night, denounced Hearst as a Benedict Arnold, and predicted his defeat. Edward M. Shepard, about the only optimist left, yesterday afternoon said that he "still believed the Democratic party would survive." But the general opinion is that it has already committed suicide.

These are the things which the man who nominated him think of Hearst. What Hearst thinks of them is equally public. He has denounced the chief of them, over and over again, as thieves, pirates, corruptionists and traitors. Whatever price he paid them for their support, it had to be high enough to induce them to swallow these many and recent insults.

Verily "chaos is come again," and out of that chaos the scattered fragments of what was once the Democratic party are no longer recoverable. To be sure, you can not kill a party with one blunder. But when its destruction was already the logical conclusion, it takes only one overt act to make the destruction practical also. This is the situation that had long been ripening. The American people have been dividing into two groups, neither of which corresponded to the old Democratic party. One group represents all the elements of discontent and disorder, together with the genuine believers in Socialistic revolution. The other represents all the conservative elements of society, including not merely the stupid and stubborn defenders of the existing order of things, but also and especially, the active reform elements, led by men like Roosevelt, Hughes and Polk, who believe the house needs cleaning, but would rather scrub than burn it. These two parties exist already in everything but organization. Every American belongs to one or the other of them. But the division of political machinery has been on other lines. Now comes Hearst, and smashes the empty Democratic machine. There was nothing else left of the party, and with the destruction of this, the practical division takes the lines which the logical division had already taken.

There are now two parties in New York, the party of political reform, led by Charles C. Hughes, and supported by every sound and conservative element in the Republican and former Democratic party, and the party of economic revolution led by Hearst, and supported sincerely by all the forces of economic disruption, and insincerely by all the ancient forces of Tammany political corruption. These are the lines that will be drawn all over the country, next.

And the Democratic party is dead.

HUGHES AND HEARST.

"Look here, upon this picture, and on this," Hughes and Hearst, between whom the people of New York must choose for governor, and between whose types the American people are now to divide themselves.

Hughes, not an aspirant for the position, modest, retiring, unassuming, willing to run only if it was his duty, and only on condition that he would be under no pledge except to do his duty, chosen spontaneously because of what he is as a man and what he represents as a movement. Charles E. Hughes is America's most capable reformer. His service in exposing the insurance frauds was the most successful piece of unselfish in the history of American investigations. And it was the least destructive. Conservative, scrupulously fair, unwaveringly honest, calmly brave, and marvellously clear-headed, it was, simply as a feat, an astonishing piece of work. And in its practical effect, it not only cleared out the corruption, from the life insurance business, the greatest single business in the world, but it formed the basis for all the other reforms and regulations of corporate aggression which have followed and are promised. It cleared the minds of the American people, as no other revelation of corruption ever did, and it marked a new era in our history. It was the one memorable piece of destruction that was thoroughly constructive. It increased the value of every life insurance policy in the very companies it attacked, and it is now their most valued asset. It was the political reform work by which all others are measured. And it was a chance for Charles E. Hughes to present himself to the American people as an ideal of courage, intelligence, manhood and self-facing devotion to a cause such as has rarely been seen. Hearst, the loudest, most brazen, most reckless agitator in America, beginning life as a disturber of the peace of Harvard, from which he was expelled; turning from a few wild years of personal debauch and reckless vice to the larger orgies of debauching the newspaper business of the world; debauching politics next, and betraying the party to which he was allied; growing from mere aimless sensationalism to systematic assault on the whole foundations of American society; finally, by a corrupt bargain with the most notorious and dishonest political boss of the most piratical political machine in America, getting a strangle hold on the Democratic party of New York, and literally choking out of it the nomination which meant its suicide—this is the leader who stands at the head of what was once the Democratic party! If New York is fit for self-government, Hughes will be elected by half a million majority. If not, if the greatest state in the union is already so debauched or debauchable as to make Hearst's election conceivable, then—God save the Republic!

CRAZY MAN TRIES TO CONVERT TEAMSTERS

Arrested Near Easton While Preaching Doctrines to Terrified Residents.

Because he tried to convert the people of his neighborhood to his belief in the "eternal principle of truth, the fourth force in man," C. G. Magnuson, son of John Magnuson, who lives near Easton, now occupies a cell in the insane ward at the county house. The fellow was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Pickett at 7 o'clock last night as he was preaching his doctrines on the highways and byways to some teamsters who had tried in vain to rid themselves of him. Magnuson is 36 years of age and has other relatives in this state. He has been acting peculiarly for some time and lately has declared his intention of converting the world to his theory, which he claims he can prove by the molecular theory, the atomic theory and the theory of expansive space. The fellow terrified the neighbors in the vicinity of Easton and they sent to the sheriff's office for an officer. He is thought to be harmless.

J. H. FEE WILL MAKE JUDGE BRIGGS SWEAT

Because the Judge Fined the Y. M. C. A. Physical Director for Sidewalk Bicycling.

John H. Fee, physical director for the Y. M. C. A., was fined $3 the other day by Justice Briggs for riding his bicycle on the sidewalk. Mr. Fee, notwithstanding the position he occupies, declares he is going to take it out of Briggs the first chance he gets. "Fee will get the chance," Briggs has said he will give it to him. The outcome is awaited with interest. The directors of the Y. M. C. A. will back Fee up in the matter. "The thing came about in this way: Fee the other evening was riding downtown. He lives in the middle of a block and he rode on that part of the sidewalk until he reached the first crossing, when he turned into the street. Fee regarded it as a merely technical violation of the ordinance. A policeman who saw it regarded it otherwise, stopped the Y. M. C. A. man and told him to report at the police court in the morning for the usual punishment. Fee, instead, rode out to Judge Briggs' house at once. He explained the circumstances to the judge and paid the $3 fine. Fee then had an animated conversation with Briggs, as a result of which the judge joined the Y. M. C. A. business men's class, paying the fee in advance. "And I'll make him sweat out at least three pounds of flesh for those three plunks of mine," chuckled Fee afterwards. The judge, who is acquiring too much judicial avordupois, says he's willing.

REGISTRATION HAS BEEN CLOSED

There Was No Unusual Rush to Enroll Names on Official List Yesterday.

Registration of voters for the coming general election closed last night at midnight, and no one whose name is not now regularly entered in the official papers can vote next November. Transfers to a new precinct may be made by those already on the great register up to Oct. 11th. The party headquarters kept open to the last possible minute for registration purposes, and many were enrolled during the evening. The county clerk's office has also kept open until 9 o'clock in the evening, but few went up there to register so late. The heaviest enrollment has been in the forenoon and between 7 and 8 in the evening. There was no rush to the office yesterday, no more names being put to certification than on previous days. It will take at least a week for the force in the county clerk's office to make any sort of an estimate as to the total registration. The work of copying into the books will be hastened as far as possible, so that candidates and others interested can inspect them.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Colonel J. Task of the engineer corps of the United States army, committed suicide last night at the home of his daughter at Sandy Hook, N. J., by cutting his throat with a razor. The act is attributed to ill health.

SOCIALIST MEETING SATURDAY NIGHT

Walker Thomas Mills, known as the Little Giant of the Socialist party, will speak on the issues of the campaign Saturday night in the courthouse park. Mr. Mills has the distinction of having been reelected to by Upton Sinclair in "The Jungle" as follows: "There was a man who was known in the party as 'The Little Giant.' The Lord Jesus used up so much material in the making of his head that there had not been enough to complete his legs; but he got about on the platform and when he shook his raven whiskers the pillars of Capitalism rocked."

SUNDAY SCHOOL MAKES OCTOBER RALLY MONTH

The Christian church Sunday school has decided to make the month of October a rally day-month. The first Sunday the boys have charge of the exercises; the second Sunday the girls guide the proceedings; the third Sunday the parents will take the school in charge, and on the fourth Sunday a general rally-day program will occupy the hour. Every one is most cordially invited throughout the month, and especially the girls and the boys.

Street Car Meeting Postponed

Yesterday was the day set for the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Fresno City Railway Company, but as the proxies did not arrive from Los Angeles, the meeting was postponed for one week. Manager Wilson stated yesterday that the meeting would be purely formal, and the same board of directors would be elected.

ATLANTA'S RACE RIOTS ARE FINALLY QUELLED

Prompt Action of the Authorities and Generous Treatment by Citizens Secured Quiet.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 26.—The race riot situation is under the control of the authorities and business has resumed normal conditions. The city schools are open and well attended and all manufacturing plants and factories which have been suspended since Saturday blew their whistles at 10 o'clock this morning and began operations. All saloons are closed and licenses to negro restaurants and low bars have been rescinded by the city council in a special session. The citizens' committee of ten, aided by the mayor, police and military authorities, are in absolute control. There was no disorder last night and with fourteen companies of state militia, a battalion of artillery, a battalion of cavalry and an increased police force on duty, it is believed the riots are curbed and peace permanently restored. Today the negro districts are in perfect order and the terror of mob rule has passed away. The city will pay properly owners for all damage inflicted and at a mass meeting a fund of several thousand dollars was subscribed to defray the expenses of burying the dead and caring for the wounded and to care for the families of the victims. This applies to both races.

IN RANCHER'S LOFTDecomposed Corpse of W. Y. Griffith is Discovered on Central Avenue.The decomposed cadaver of W. Y.
Griffith was discovered in the hay loft of W. B. Bannister in his barn on Central avenue late Tuesday night.Mr. Bannister went out to attend to his stock before retiring for the night,
and on going up to the hay loft to pitch down some fodder, was horrified to discover a corpse lying beneath the pile.The body had evidently been dead for a week or ten days, and was barely recognizable, but he was able to identify it as that of man named Griffith whom he had seen a couple of weeks ago.Fearing to alarm his family, Mr. Bannister wrapped the body in some old sacking and left it there until morning, when he went to the coroner's office and reported the case. Deputy Beau, with an assistant, went to the spot and brought the corpse to town where an inquest was held. Death was thought to be from natural causes, but the condition of the body would admit of no autopsy to determine the precise cause.HAVE RUEF AND SCHMITZ
SILENCED MR. BELL?(Special dispatch to the Republican.)
MODESTO, Sept. 26.—The Herald has it from a source whose authority cannot be questioned that Theodore A.
Bell, Democratic candidate for governor, has received imperative orders from his managers to cease his criticism of the Ruef-Schmitz machine and union labor leaders. At Sacramento, Stockton and elsewhere Bell has been very violent in his criticisms, but at Modesto, to, at Turlock and at Fresno, he made no mention of Ruef or Schmitz. His orders to this effect were received after his speech at Stockton and before his speech at Modesto.NEW POWER COMPANY TO last night on the Owl for Oakland where he will purchase engines and dynamos

IN THE LODGE ROOM.

Pride of the West hire, Lady Mccabe, enjoyed a successful meeting last night in Odd Fellows' hall. The order meets now on the second and fourth Wednesdays of the month, the alternating meeting nights being devoted to social gatherings at the homes of the different members. This plan has been found to be a most successful one, making a pleasant variety in the social life of the order. Mrs. Pauline Kellogg and Mrs. Ella Benham were initiated last night and several applications for membership were received.
Knights of Pythias.

Fresno Lodge, Knights of Pythias, held a short session last night, adjourning early on account of the political rally. Dr. Wolf and O. P. Kieldson were appointed on a social committee to arrange for an entertainment in which the members of the lodgehouse
Sisters will be asked to participate.
The affair will be held in about three weeks. Aside from this the session was occupied with the usual round of lodge business.

Modern Woodmen.
Sunset camp, Modern Woodmen, have with them now W. R. Moore, district deputy, who is working up the affairs of the lodge into the shape, getting the work for the winter arranged systematically. There are good prospects ahead and the camp is already putting on some good work. Several applications were received last night and more are expected.

PHELPS SERVED TERM
IN SAN QUENTIN PRISONMan Who Assaulted Selma Child
Served for Forgery.

One more stain on the past of Phelps, the man held for outraging little Della Crane in Selma, has been discovered to blacken his record. He is an ex-convict. The publicity given to his latest disgrace elicited the fact that he served a term of three years in San Quentin on a charge of passing fictitious checks in Los Angeles. He was sentenced on November 9, 1903, and was released on March 3 of this year. On the date of his sentence he was 37 years of age, according to the prison records.

By this it is proved that his stories about serving in the army are either lies, unless he might have served for a short time prior to his imprisonment. In the latter case the telegram purporting to be signed by an officer of the army testifying to his good character was a forgery; as the date given was last January.

Phelps was an expert telegraph operator, but is not known to have worked at his trade for several years.

ELLEFFORD ENGAGEMENT
DRAWING TO CLOSE

Tonight will witness one of the Elleffords' best plays, "For Her Children's Sake," which more than pleased on its first performance. There will be shown the paragon and the winter circus,
with its tent and clowns and horses.
The play, which is a strong one, is filled with good comedy and Miss Mat-the Lane will introduce one of her best specialties aided by George Hernandez, while the Osborne children will be seen as the two Mascoles of the winter circus. This same bill will be given at the outdoor Saturday afternoon in order that the little ones may have a chance to see it. Some of the children will be given to those attending the matinee and the Osbornes will hold a reception on the stage.

ARE ALL AFRAID
OF BLUE RIBBONSLocal Team Invites Contest to Its Title of Champions.

The Fresno Blue Ribbons are still looking for a match. Madera has backed down, and there is now no team left for the locals to play and so they are claiming the championship of the valley. Out of sixteen games that the Blue Ribbons have played this season,
they have won fifteen, the game lost being against Madera. With Modesto and Merced out of the game for the season, there is no one left for the Blue Ribbons to play but Los Angeles and Newman, and an effort will be made to get a game with those teams.
Next Sunday the Blue Ribbons play
at Farnersville.

FINAL MEETING TODAY
OF RELIEF COMMITTEE

The San Francisco Relief Committee will hold its final meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon when Treasurer Einstein will submit a detailed report of the receipts and expenditures by the committee.

COFFEE WAS IT
People Slowly Learn the Facts.

"All my life I have been such a slave to coffee that the very aroma of it was enough to set my nerves quivering."

I kept gradually losing my health but I used to say "nonsense," it don't hurt me. Slowly I was forced to admit the truth and the final result was that my whole nervous force was shattered.

"My heart became weak and uncertain
in its action and that frightened me.
Finally my physician told me, about a year ago, that I must stop drinking coffee or I could never expect to be well again."

"I was in despair for the very thought of medicines I had tried so many times nauseated me. Of course I thought of Postum, but could hardly bring myself to give up coffee. Finally I concluded that I would try it myself to give Postum a trial. I got a 5-pound package and carefully followed the directions, and what a delicious, nourishing, rich drink it was. Do you know I found it very easy to shift from the coffee to Postum and not mind the change at all. Almost immediately after I made the change I found myself better and as the days went by I kept on improving. My nerves grew sound and steady, I slept well and felt strong and well balanced all the time. Now I am completely cured, with the old nervousness and sickness all gone. In every way I am well once more." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

It pays to give up the drink that acts on some like a poison, for health is the greatest fortune one can have.
"There's a reason."

$1,000,000 Glasses

The people of America have already spent one million dollars on the new Kryptok lenses. And for good reason. Two pairs of glasses are a great nuisance and a great expense. Grab fronts are injurious. Bifocal glasses with the lines across them are very unsightly.

The Kryptok displaces them all. The Kryptok is a single glass for reading or distance. Made only by us. Beware of imitations.

TO RENDER FAMILY AID

Boy to Be Kept Out of School One Month.

Stockman Barritt Did Not Answer His Wife's Charges In Court.

Not many orders have to be signed by the judges entitled "granting permission to work." A few, however, as a means of permitting deviations from the child labor laws. The first one this year occurred yesterday when Judge Austin granted permission to Mrs. Josephine Kraft to have her 13-year-old son, Darwin, work in Madera's planing mill for one month or until October 25th.

The Krafts live in Pockewick addition, and the petition represented that the father, Philip Kraft, is now crippled with rheumatism and is unable to support himself. Sheriff Collins reported that he had investigated the case and thought the boy could be kept out of school for a while to help support the family.

The state law authorizes judges in juvenile cases to permit children to be employed in deserving cases above the age of 12 years.

No defense was made by Mortimer Barritt, a stock raiser of the Riverside country, to his wife's suit for divorce, which was tried yesterday before Judge Austin in the Superior court.

The separation, which was made on the ground of cruelty and unlawful cohabitation, was accordingly granted.

Mrs. Ida A. Barritt represented that she was married to her husband in 1891, and has three children, Walter Barritt, and two little girls. The husband's conduct was such that she left him in 1902, but later forgave him, but again found that his attentions to another woman were such that she had to leave him. The couple arrived at a divorce settlement, he turning over to her property worth $8000, and agreeing that he should keep the boy and she the two girls. Barritt and Hill were the plaintiff's attorneys.

M. K. Harris, attorney for W. W. Hutchinson, against whom the Phoenix Building and Loan Association recently obtained judgment, yesterday argued this motion for a new trial and Ewing for the association. The motion was denied, whereupon Attorney Harris obtained a ten days' stay of execution.

W. R. and A. A. Smith recently brought suit against E. J. Burrell to collect on a promissory note, through Attorneys Everts & Irving. The case came to trial yesterday and a default was entered against the plaintiff. Judgment was given for $370.66, together with interest and attorney's fees.

Charles G. Balch filed an account of his guardianship of the estate of George Balch, an incompetent. Hearing was set for October 8th. George Balch has since died. Frank Perry, George Calder and T. A. Grimsstead were appointed appraisers.

S. P. CO. TO DO BIG WORK

Huge Campaign to Colonize California.

Officials Will Visit Los Angeles and Way Points on Inspection.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The Southern Pacific is entering upon a huge campaign to colonize California. H. A. Jones, freight traffic manager, left tonight for Los Angeles and way points. They will spend the next few weeks in looking over the ground and examining the territory in which the Southern Pacific is to concentrate its efforts.

Considerable comment was caused by a report from Chicago that the association would deal with the matter of colonist transportation and declare it illegal under the new rate law. The local officers of the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe do not fear that any such step will be taken, and say that as the rates are published, they cannot see why any question should arise about the matter.

Chicago Life Has Retired.
CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The Chicago Life insurance company has retired from the insurance field. The business of the company, aggregating $6,000,000 of life insurance in force, was today reinsured in the Federal Life Insurance company of Chicago.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

Is the Result of Prolonged Study and Deep Research.
Marconi—the wireless wizard—did not stumble accidentally upon the principles of his marvelous invention.

It was only by deep and prolonged study of the cause of certain known phenomena in nature that he was able to produce the startling effect.

Many people, in speaking of their radio-sets, have a way of lumping them together without discrimination.

Radio is a different front altogether from other so-called "radio-sets" and "radio-sets" as they are known.

It is a scientific preparation prepared for the sole purpose of destroying the faulty wire that causes damage and falling hair.

OBJECT TO DISTRICTS

Property Owners Will Attempt Dissolution.

Lower Kings River District Has Held No Election for Five Years.

One of the results of the floods of last winter which did so much damage in the lower reaches of the Kings river will be much litigation over the reclamation districts. Proportions are now being made by certain property owners within the confines of the Lower Kings River Reclamation district to have it dissolved. Technicalities will be resorted to, but the real reason for the attack will be that so much damage has been done to the old works that to repair them would amount almost to confiscation of land, while attempts will also be made to form much more extensive districts, such as will cover all the land threatened with overflow in any season.

Andrew Johnson, a considerable property owner in the "lake" district has been in Fresno a number of times on behalf of his neighbors as well as himself, and has employed Attorney Miles Wallace to assist in the contest. One of the principal grounds for attack on the district organization, it is understood, is that while the law directs that an election for district commissioners shall be held every two years, the present board has held one over since 1901.

Recent Amendments Will Be Resisted.

Last summer, shortly after the last big overflow and while most of the bottom country was still flooded, a number of meetings were held, both in Fresno and Hanford, to induce the property owners in both counties to unite in one large district that would provide protecting works along the whole length of the river. This proposition was defeated, however, on account largely of jealousy between the banks of the river. The attempt to form large districts has not been given up, however.

The lower Kings River Reclamation district, which is now being attacked, consists of about fourteen sections of land, lying both in Fresno and Kings counties, and on both sides of the river.

PLUNGED KNIFE INTO REDSKIN

Mounted Indian Fatally Stabs Aborigine.

As the Men Rode Along they Quarrelled With the Fatal Result.

VISALIA, Sept. 26.—Brig Jarumia, a half-breed Indian, was brought to the county jail this morning by Sheriff W. W. Collins, charged with assault with intent to commit murder. Jarumia, last night stabbed, another half-breed, whose name was not learned, near the Indian reservation southeast of Porterville. The two and a third redskins were riding horseback toward the reservation and had been drinking and quarreling. Finally Jarumia dropped back a short distance and then galloped ahead at full speed with a long knife in his hand. He struck the blade with all his force in the back of his nearest companion. The knife entered just under the shoulder blade and was slashed upward, a gash all of a foot in length being made. The wound man fell from his horse and Jarumia started after the third, but the latter put spurs to his animal, which was believed that the lung of the injured man is penetrated and that the wound is a fatal one.

Phil W. Davis, who for the past seven years has been connected with the Mt. Whitney Power company in this city, and who for the past four years has been a director and secretary of the company, has resigned his position and has gone with his wife and child to Fowler, where he will assume the management of a large raisin vineyard belonging to his wife's mother, Mrs. S. J. Nye.

Mr. Davis first entered the employ of the company as time keeper at the flume in the mountains and later became a bookkeeper. Edward F. Baker, at present a bookkeeper for the company, has been elected secretary.

The excursion to Hanford from this city tomorrow night to attend the Bell rally is all off. This was determined this afternoon when a telegram was received at the local depot stating that, owing to the lateness with which the train was ordered, the Coolidge people had secured all the available equipment in the valley for an excursion from that section and Lomere and that no other equipment could be had this side of Okapi.

On that account the excursion will have to be declared off. The Visalia band had been engaged to make the trip, but the arrangements with the boys was also canceled.

On account of the resignation of Miss Anna May Bell as teacher of English at the Visalia high school, there has been a change in the arrangement of teachers at that institution. Miss Mae Spencer, who has charge of the school department, and Miss Higgs, teacher of German and history, will assume the English work and a new teacher in the commercial department will be secured.

Miss May Hammond has gone to Los Angeles to enter school.

Miss Maggie Dennis and Miss Vidilla Spencer arrived this morning from Los Angeles, where they have been staying for some time.

Mrs. D. K. Zamwalt has gone to Riverside to attend the annual conference of the M. E. church.

S. P. O'Leary returned this morning from a trip to the southern part of the state.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 25.—The ultimate result of the present strife in Cuba will be the annexation of the island by the United States, said Senator Elkins in an interview here today.

THE SOCIETY

The hospitable portals of the Minnawawa vineyard are always open to visitors, the kind host and hostess of this wonderfully attractive country place understanding perfectly the art of entertaining. This time the fortunate visitor was Mrs. Louisa Sherman of Topeka, Kan., a sister-in-law of the doctor's, who has been visiting California. On Tuesday Mrs. Sherman was the guest of honor at a charming little luncheon given at the Minnawawa vineyard. The luncheon table was exceedingly dainty and pretty in decorations of pink lace, France roses and pink satin ribbons, while in the chamber above a charming effect was obtained with the use of clusters of grapes in delicate pinkish tones appropriate to the season. At the table with the host and hostess and Mrs. Sherman were Mrs. F. E. Cooke, Mrs. J. A. Webster, Mrs. Julia Sayre, Mrs. Gift, Mrs. Lind, Mrs. W. J. Timini, Mrs. A. C. Swartz and Miss Julia Sayre.

Mrs. Sherman left yesterday afternoon for her home in Topeka.

The Girls' Collegiate school in Los Angeles is to have a monthly representation from Fresno this year, three of our most attractive girls having enrolled there. Miss Ethel Shaver, Miss Jennie Wilson, who was a student there last year, and Miss Georgia Clark. Accompanied by Mrs. C. E. Shaver and Mrs. A. B. Clark, they left last night on the Owl for Los Angeles. Miss May Hammond of Visalia, who will also be a student at the same school, was in the party. Miss Catherine Cory will return before long to her studies at the Marlborough school in Los Angeles.

Miss Annabel Cummings returned this week from a two months' outing at Shaver, looking the picture of health. Her summer in the mountains was most restful and beneficial, improving her health greatly.

Mrs. R. E. Dow entertained a few ladies informally at bridge on Tuesday afternoon at her apartments in the Hughes, among the players being Mrs. John Austin, Mrs. Sachs, Mrs. O. J. Waggoner. The "bridge" habit is becoming quite fixed among many of the ladies, who meet once or twice a week for an afternoon's game. On Saturday afternoon Mrs. J. M. Bostick is to have a little bridge affair of two or three tables.

The supper which was to have been given by the Men's league of the First Presbyterian church this evening has been indefinitely postponed. An announcement will be made later of the definite day fixed upon for the event.

Mrs. Anna Newman returned last week from a visit of three months with her daughter in Portland.

Mrs. Frank Cook is entertaining as her guests this week her cousins, Dr. J. J. Blocker, with his mother and little daughter from Riverside.

Mrs. George Staniford leaves today for Alameda, where she will join Mr. Staniford, who is in business there, and her sons, who are at school. She has been in Alameda during the summer, returning the first of the week to arrange some household matters and prepare to return to the coast for the winter. The climate has been most beneficial to her health, which was not at all good when she left this summer. Their home on Belmont avenue has been leased for the winter to the cordage Bealls of Temperance colony.

Mrs. T. E. Hayward and granddaughter, Miss Ethel Hayward of Sterling, Cal., are expected Saturday on a visit to the

BEGINNING ON RAISINS

Run Has Been Light Up to Present Time.

Packing House Operators Say They Do Not Want Sunday Rest.

The raisin season is now on at the packing houses and seedling plants. While many of the packing houses are working day and night, raisins are the dominating feature. So far the run has been very light, not at all up to that of last year, but the packers have all that they can handle and have been kept on the go ever since the season began. This is mainly due to the help supply, which is not up to the average either in numbers or intelligence. A large amount of foreigners are new to the business and some little time is needed to break them in.

The fruit itself is claimed by the packers to be up to the standard. To all appearance it looks exceptionally good, but the grapes are not well cured and are lacking in meat and sugar, they say. This they attribute to the unfavorable weather the past season. The cold coming at a most inopportune time has also had much to do with this, as has the extremely wet months at the beginning of the season.

In an interview with the workers in several houses in regard to Rev. A. P. Brown's sermon of last Sunday, appealing for a day off for the packing house laborer, they all answered, "We're not looking for a day off. The fruit season is short as it is and we get paid by the hour, the more hours we can get in a week the better for us. When the packing houses close down many of us are without steady work for the rest of the year, and every extra penny made by working overtime or on Sundays now goes a great way in helping things along. Let good enough alone; we're not looking."

Grapes and dried fruit are still coming in, the latter in great quantities, but this can wait and a large floor space in the several houses is piled high with the fruit.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 25.—Speaker Joseph C. Cannon and Representative James E. Watson of Indiana spent today as Kansas City's guests. They arrived on the morning train from St. Louis, where yesterday they delivered the first speeches in the Missouri congressional campaign. The day's program included a reception, a luncheon former's niece, Mrs. C. R. Taylor, and her mother.

The Home Department of the Parlor League club will meet this afternoon with the chairman of the department, Mrs. John L. Austin, at her home on North J street. This is the first meeting of the section since vacation and there will be an entertainment of interest provided by the hostess.

Mrs. J. E. Stahle of Reno, Nev., is here on a week's visit to her sisters, Mrs. W. J. McNulty and Miss Martha Sprengle.

The friends of Miss Hiram Dunsell, who was operated upon at the Barnett sanatorium a week ago for appendicitis, will be glad to learn that she is improving most satisfactorily and will soon be able to be removed to her home.

Already plans are being made for the annual Catholic bazaar, which is looked upon as a great event in Catholic circles and which this year is to be for the benefit of the Sisters' parochial school. The committee on arrangements has begun work early this year, as the fair will not be held until December. There have been received already several donations for the work and from present hearsay this year's event will eclipse all former efforts to entertain the public, who have always responded most liberally and feel satisfied that they have got value received. The parochial school has done much excellent work and with this worthy object in view—the success of the coming December fair is already assured.

The Outing and study club of the Y. W. C. A. met last night to talk over the social side of the association life this winter. Friday nights will be set aside as social nights and all classes will be held on other evenings. At this one evening a week for the purpose of a social nature may come up. Last winter there were many jolly little affairs in which the girls joined, inviting their friends on occasions to share with them in the fun and it is the purpose of the young women to make this winter a pleasant one socially. A hall-lounging party will lead off the festivities the last of October and following that there will be socials given at intervals through the year. The gymnasium classes have entered into their work with a will under the able direction of Miss Underly, and the choral society of which Miss Blanch Tuttle has charge, is to be one of the new adjuncts to the association.

All the skating enthusiasts have been saving up for the Ergatikan party to-night at the rink. Attractive decorations of flags and bunting, lanterns will make the rink gay and a host of charming matrons and maids have been chosen to assist the various chairmen in their duties as floor managers, reception committees and other offices which the young ladies will fill. The week has been dull socially, and everyone has been anticipating this event as a pleasant break in the monotony. Aside from the worthiness of the cause in which the patrons will be assisting, there is a jolly good time assured to the devotees of the rollers as well as the onlookers.

The North Park circle of the Presbyterian church will meet next Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Adam Baird on Van Ness avenue. An election of officers will be held and the members are all expected to attend.

SANGER SIFTINGS

Lumber Mills Will Run the Whole Year.

A Great Demand for Workmen, Especially Woodsmen, at High Wages.

SANGER, Sept. 26.—Never before have the big mills at Sanger been in such perfect running condition as they are at the present time. The plants both here and at Millwood have been thoroughly renovated and extensive improvements made. One of the new additions is the sales yard north of the planing mill. Having erected one of the largest lumber sheds in the State in the sales yard addition, the new company has established a convenience that greatly facilitates the local and wagon trade that comes from various parts of the valley. Under the new management the local mill will run twelve months in the year, having put sales agents on the road East and West, and with the volume of business increased locally, there will be sufficient business to keep the mammoth plant running at full capacity the year around. All of the departments of the mill have been made strictly modern and will be run according to the demand for material from the respective departments, despite the fact that the upper mills were late in starting, the shipments of lumber compares favorably with that of other seasons. At present big forces of men are working at both ends of the line, the daily shipments averaging 175,000 feet.

There is a great scarcity of workmen in and about Sanger. The local mill is advertising for men, especially woodsmen. The highest prices are being paid and it is to be hoped that this alone will bring an influx of labor. The vineyardists have felt the great shortage of labor and it makes it extremely difficult to handle the crop in such threatening times as last Sunday.

Last Saturday night the thoroughbred Missourians and their friends related at the Opera hall, the old Missouri hoe-down dance and its variations being the cause of sixty or more

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

The first outward sign of Contagious Blood Poison is a small sore or blister. As the poisonous virus becomes more firmly entrenched in the blood a red eruption appears on the body, the mouth and throat ulcerate, the hair begins to come out, glands in the neck and groin swell, copper colored spots appear on the breast, back, etc., and the unfortunate victim finds himself diseased from head to foot. Mercury and potash do not cure Contagious Blood Poison; they shut the disease up in the system and remove the outward symptoms for awhile, but when the treatment is left off the trouble returns. Then the system being weakened from the action of these strong minerals the disease makes more rapid headway than before. S. S. S. is the antidote for Contagious Blood Poison. It cures permanently and certainly by going down into the blood and removing every vestige of the virus. It is free from all minerals, and while purifying the blood it builds up the entire system by its fine tonic effects. S. S. S. destroys every particle of the poison and removes all danger of transmitting it to others. S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison because it is a perfect blood purifier. Book with instructions for self treatment and any medical advice free.

ODESSA MAY SEE HORRORS

An Extraordinary Statement Made By the Governor.

Kaulbars Will Not Suppress "Loyalists" and Threatens Their Opponents.

ODESSA, Sept. 26.—Replying to a denunciation of municipal officers yesterday, who complained of the violence daily committed by members of the League of the Russian people against peaceful citizens, Jews and Christians alike, Governor General Kaulbars said that the preservation of order was a matter concerning the police, but he personally doubted whether it was possible, or even desirable, to attempt to suppress the expression of the revolutionary sentiment, who were guided exclusively by Jews. These loyal elements included the Emperor's best sons, whom the government esteemed as its most dutiful citizens.

Disparaged at these expressions of Governor General Kaulbars, the municipal officials suggested that the victims were mostly defenseless inhabitants, who were not concerned in the revolution, to which General Kaulbars replied that he regretted that this was the case, but he must say that the population was thus punished for tolerating revolutionists among them, instead of delivering them to justice.

"I do not think there will be fresh outbreaks," said Governor General Kaulbars, "but in the event of the assumption of even one member of the League of Russian people Odessa will be inundated in blood."

The denunciations throughout retired. The tone of Governor General Kaulbars' speech, which is regarded as an open expression of approval of the horrors of counter revolution, has created much alarm. While no gathering of Liberals is permitted, the League of the Russian people is holding meetings daily.

The Christian labor organizations have issued a proclamation declaring that in the event of a fresh outbreak they will defend the Jews with their last drop of blood.

AGRARIAN DISORDERS GROW MORE SERIOUS

Circulation of Viborg Manifesto Responsible for Excesses in Large Region.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 26.—Grave agrarian disorders have broken out in the province of Viatska, the center of disturbances being the important district of Malinsk, with a population of over 100,000, where, according to the reports received, the inhabitants of many villages have joined in the uprising, have disarmed and expelled the police and are pillaging and destroying the residences of the land owners and devastating the country.

It is rumored at Viatska that the administrative police chiefs in the Malinsk district and eight of their subordinates have been killed. The excesses began September 20th with a riot over the enrollment of army reserve men for their autumn service. At the village of Malinsk a body of peasants attacked the enrollment station, killed a sergeant and six rural policemen, mortally wounded the assistant police chief of the district and destroyed the list of reserve men.

The Viborg manifesto is thought to be more directly responsible for the disorders than anything else. It had a wide circulation in Viatska province and its exhortation to the peasants to refuse to do military service was spread by the members of the outlawed parliament from Viatska.

NEW LEADER IN ZION CITY

Dowie's Former People Are Deserting Voliva.

Another Deliverer Has Made
His Appearance and Is Gaining Followers.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—A new leader has arisen in Zion City. He is Charles Parham, an evangelist of the apostolic faith, a sect that has 5000 followers, chiefly in Kansas and California.

In a single week he has already several hundred followers and last night General Overseer Voliva held a special meeting of officers of the church to see if some prompt and effective measures could not be taken against the proselyter. His converts include some of the prominent elders.

"You must choose either me or this proselyter who has stolen into our church," said Voliva at the meeting at Zion, college. "You cannot serve two leaders. This man is winning some of our most faithful people from their allegiance at a critical time. The only thing that will enable us to weather the present storm is unity. I fear that this unity is threatened."

Meanwhile, Parham was holding an enthusiastic meeting at the residence of John Clark, not more than a block away from the college. The house was crowded and the congregation covered the lawn.

"I have come to save the people of Zion from the selfishness and bigotry of their leaders," said the evangelist. "Four months ago I saw Zion City in a vision, and the troubles of its people were made clear to me."

"Arise and go to Zion and take up the burden of an oppressed people, a voice send out of all your difficulties, if you will trust in me."

"We will," shouted more than 300 people with the vim that formerly greeted the utterances of John Alexander Dowie.

Parham's most important convert is A. F. Lee, who resigned during the day his position as general ecclesiastical secretary of the church. W. H. Peckham, who was manager of the Zion City bank until two weeks ago, is another, and George A. Rogers, manager of Elijah hospice, is another.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS FROM SALTON SINK

Stream of the Colorado River Is Being Turned Back Into Its Old Channel.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 26.—Word from Calexico tells of the partial success of the Southern Pacific company, the California Development company and the people of the Imperial valley in their efforts to turn the Colorado river back into its old channel and out of New River, which has been carrying the most of it into the Salton Sink. The companies have nearly a thousand men at work with three big steam shovels and big steel dump cars. The water has been raised three feet by the work and the stream is lessened to about 500 feet. Rock is being dumped in that space and has found bottom to such an extent that they claim the river will be turned back in ten days from date.

On account of the resignation of Justice Brown and the failure to fill his place, there will one vacant seat on the bench.

MANILA, Sept. 26.—The Cuyayan valley in the northern part of the island of Luzon, was devastated by a typhoon September 18th. Barrages, Gallies and Laguna were totally destroyed and four towns were badly damaged. Cuyayan is the principal tobacco section of the island and the crops were practically destroyed. No estimate has been made of the amount of damage done but the loss of life is known to have been slight.

A typhoon at Cuyayan province, island of Luzon, September 22nd, destroyed a number of roads, damaged the crops and caused about $150,000 damage in the towns situated in the path of the storm.

CATALINA ISLAND "INVASION" FAILED

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—A third attempt by Captain Hollar, of the "Independent" steamer San Diego, to force a free entry to Avalon and Santa Catalina island in defiance of the Banning company's standing price of $2.25 fee for each individual who lands, today failed of accomplishment.

Women who attempted to climb the emergency wire fence erected along the water front and "brush" the wires were unmercifully beaten off with heavy strokes of water from hose lines attached to the pier. After an hour spent in unequal controversy, the sixty-four invaders withdrew.

PIKES PEAK REVERBERATED

Salute in Honor of Discoverer at the Summit.

Unique Features of Week of Celebration at Colorado Springs.

SUMMIT OF PIKE'S PEAK, Colo., Sept. 26.—What was undoubtedly the highest official military salute ever fired by any army was the salute of eleven guns today on the summit of Pike's Peak, nearly three miles above sea level, at 10:30 this morning. It was fired by guns of the Twelfth artillery, U. S. A., and was in honor of Gen. Zebulon Montgomery Pike, who died April 27, 1813, after a victorious attack on York, now Toronto, Can., and who seven years previously, while lieutenant and head of the Southwest expedition sent out by the war department, made the first record of the existence and location of the mountain that now bears his name and was the scene of the ceremonies in his honor today.

Seldom has a military salute been more impressive than that of this morning, the sharp reports echoing and ricocheting from crag to crag of the rugged mountain top, finally dying away in space that was infinite in every direction save below.

Incident to the formal dedication and christening of Pike's Peak, of which the salute was a feature, there were addresses by President W. R. Sherman of Colorado college, Colorado Springs; Gen. Irving Hall of Philippine campaign fame, and Mayor E. F. Nichols of Manitou, the celebrated resort which nestles among the foothills at the base of the mountain. The unveiling of a handsome bronze tablet, appropriately inscribed, was by Nicholas Caldwell, a nephew of Mayor Nichols.

While the chief interest of the third day of the Pike centennial week centered around this morning's ceremonies on the summit of the peak, there was no lack of entertainment for the vast majority of those participating in the celebration who could not go to the summit. Cavalry maneuvers at Camp Pike in the early afternoon afforded an interesting spectacle for a throng that more than taxed the transportation facilities, and a dress parade of the Twenty-ninth infantry was held on the Cheyenne Mountain Country Polo grounds at 5 o'clock. This evening there was a reunion of patriotic and learned societies at Colorado college.

Vice President Fairbanks and the other guests of Thomas F. Walsh spent today in Denver.

CRETANS WISHED TO KEEP PRINCE GEORGE

His Departure Is Taken as Evidence of Failure of Annexation Aspirations.

CANANEA, Island of Crete, Sept. 26.—The departure for Athens last night of Prince George of Greece, the late commissioner of the powers, who is succeeded by M. Zanis, former premier of Greece, led to turbulent scenes and a conflict between the Cretans and the international troops. Several hundred armed Cretans, who see in the departure of Prince George a postponement of their aspirations for the annexation of the island of Greece, attempted forcibly to prevent his embarkation. They broke through the cordon of troops and volleys were exchanged, resulting in two being killed and a number wounded on both sides. The new commissioner will take up his duties next week.

NORTHERN PACIFIC'S LAND CLAIMS ATTACKED

Technical Point as to Succession Is Behind Sensational Suit Begun in Idaho. LEWISTON, Idaho, Sept. 26.—Suit was filed in the district court here which may involve the validity of the Northern Pacific claim to thousands of acres of valuable timber lands in the Clearwater valley. A test case is being made by Richard Miller, who contends he died on his timber before the claims of the Northern Pacific had been accepted by the interior department. The legality of the Northern Pacific land selections are also attacked. The case is similar to the one in Spokane last week and is based on the same argument, that the Northern Pacific Railway company is not the legal successor to the Northern Pacific Railroad.

PRICES CURRENT

CHICAGO—Trading in the wheat pit today was quiet all day and the tone of the market was easy. The principal influence was the situation in the Northwest. News regarding the spring wheat crop was conflicting and this accounted to a large extent for the apathy among traders. A report from Minneapolis claimed that less wheat had been threshed in Minnesota than in any year for the past twenty-four years. Receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth continued small. The market received some liberal clearances of wheat and flour, total exports being placed at 1,054,800 bushels. The closing was easy. December wheat opened a shade to 1/4c lower at 75 1/2c; sold between 74 1/2c and 75 1/4c and closed 74 1/2c off at 75c.

The corn market opened active and strong as a result of a considerable falling off in local receipts. For a time prices held firm, but later free selling of the May option caused a slight recession. The close was firm. December closed 1/2c up at 43 1/2c.

There was a good general trade in oats and prices ruled strong. Damage reports from the Northwest constituted the source of strength. December closed a shade higher at 34 1/2c to 34 3/4c.

Provisions were quiet and steady. Continued light movement of hogs induced considerable investment buying of the January products, which was the feature of trading. At the close January pork was up 2 1/2c. Lard was unchanged and ribs were off 2 1/2c.

NEW YORK: The market for evaporated apples shows no fresh feature. Offerings are still liberal, as compared with demand, and some buyers seek to export concessions. New crop state, good to choice, are quoted at 5 1/2c; new outwestern 5 1/2c to 5 3/4c, according to grade.

Prunes are closely cleaned up on spot and prices are firm, ranging from 6 1/2c to 8 1/2c for recently graded grades. Apples are unchanged with choice quoted at 18, extra choice 17, fancy 16 1/2c.

Peaches are firm with choice quoted at 10 1/2c; extra choice 11 1/2

BELL PREDICTS HEARST'S DEFEAT

The New York Democracy Has Brought Itself Into Disrepute and Will Be Without Influence in the National Councils of the Party, He Declares.

When the Republican received a flash over the Associated Press wire at 11 o'clock last night that W. R. Hearst had been nominated for governor by the New York Democratic convention, Theodore A. Bell was asked for an expression upon the action of the convention. Mr. Bell, after his strenuous night's work, was just about to retire, but he was ready to discuss Hearst in pajamas as well as upon the stump.

"I don't know what more I can say about it than I have already said to-night in anticipation," said Mr. Bell. "I think the New York convention made a great mistake and was untrue to the principles of Democracy in nominating Hearst. I believe that it did not express the will of the Democratic party in New York. Hearst formed the Municipal League for the sole purpose of destroying the party. He now uses the party in New York as a stepping stone to his ambitions, and the convention tamely submitted to it."

"How will that affect Hearst's standing in this state?" was asked. "Will it tend to restore him to standing in the party after the Sacramento resolution reading him out of the party?"

"It will give him no standing with the party in this state so far as I am concerned. We don't recognize him any more than we did before. I don't think that he should be recognized. Hearst's nomination merely means that the New York Democracy has brought itself into disrepute."

"How will it affect the national campaign two years hence?"

"Not at all. Why, the rest of the country so strong, that New York will look like a little empire state in nominating Hearst puts itself out of the position it is entitled to as a strong and even dominating factor in national Democratic politics. It practically retires it—puts it down and out—and it ought to," this last with emphasis.

"What do you think of Hearst's chances of election?"

"I think he will be hopelessly and overwhelmingly defeated."

AUTO STRUCK STREET CAR

Judge Harry A. Melvin Painfully Injured.

Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks Was One of Party In Wall's Car.

OAKLAND, Sept. 26.—A large automobile, driven by Carlton Wall, the Alameda capitalist, collided with an electric car shortly before 6 o'clock at the corner of East Sixteenth street and Ninth avenue. In the automobile were Wall, Mrs. G. R. French, the chauffeur, State Senator R. G. Lukens, Judge Harry A. Melvin, grand exalted ruler of the Elks of the United States, and Mrs. Melvin. The collision was a terrific one. Mrs. Melvin was thrown on a sidewalk and probably fatally injured. Judge Melvin was thrown on the cement pavement and was painfully injured. Senator Lukens was also thrown out and badly injured. Wall and the chauffeur escaped, with a few scratches.

Wall was driving the automobile at a fast clip down Ninth avenue, when he plunged head on into the front of a fast-moving electric car, going up Sixteenth street. The collision threw the automobile twenty feet into the gutter, but it did not tip over.

No one on the street car was injured. The wounded were taken into a nearby house and physicians were quickly called to render assistance. Late this evening, Mrs. Melvin was in a very precarious condition.

GIL MEAD WANTED BY 'ANGELS' DIRECTORS

Assistant Manager of Los Angeles Ball Team Has Disappeared from View.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—The directors of the Angels City Baseball Association, the new club which took over the care of Coast League baseball in Los Angeles, after the break up of the Morley regime, are hunting high and low for Gil Mead, who since the election of Henry Berry as manager of the club, has carried the title of "assistant manager" under Berry.

A meeting of the directors was to have been held tonight to receive reports from Mead and Captain Dillon, but failure to get any trace of the former necessitated a postponement until tomorrow night. The directors, while scrupulously avoiding anything in the nature of accusations against Mead, desire an accounting of his stewardship, financial, clerical and otherwise. He was the custodian, they say, of $1,500 club funds, and today numerous bills within his jurisdiction were presented for payment.

The directors say that Mead has not been seen about the city for a week, and all inquiries as to his whereabouts have failed.

WASHINGTON DEMOCRATS HAD SMALL CONVENTION

Bryan Was Endorsed, Hearst's Name Cheered to the Echo and Ticket Nominated.

SEATTLE, Sept. 26.—The Democrats of Washington met in state convention today, endorsed W. J. Bryan for the presidency in 1928, cheered the name of W. R. Hearst to the echo and placed a full congressional and judicial ticket in the field as follows:

For congress: In large, Dr. F. S. Byrnes of Spokane; Dudley E. Shulman of Tacoma and William Blackman of Seattle.

Justices of the Supreme court: Long term, C. W. Holman of Hopland, E. C. Milligan of Seattle. Short term, Warren Tolman of Spokane and B. O. Sweeney of Seattle.

The convention was the smallest held here in years and whole counties went unrepresented.

Collision on Mexican Central

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 26.—A Herald special says eight men were killed by a collision of freight trains on the Mexican Central railroad near Calles this afternoon. H. C. Brown and John M. Hugo, conductors, were among the dead. No information as to the cause of the wreck has been received.

Fairbanks Was Banqueted

DENVER, Sept. 26.—Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks was the guest of honor at a banquet at the Brown Palace hotel today tendered by the Chamber of Commerce. Thomas Walsh, the millionaire mining man, was toastmaster. The vice president responded to the toast, "Our Country." Three hundred plates were laid.

NEW ATHLETIC FIELD FOR HIGH SCHOOL BOYS

Y. M. C. A. to Turn Over Field to High School Members.

The local Y. M. C. A. has offered the high school boys of Fresno a new athletic field. The association has an option on a large vacant lot within two blocks of its new building, but to obtain this it will be necessary for thirty high school boys to co-operate by joining the association in order to pay the expenses of building the running track and baseball diamond. Already some fifteen fellows have signed and the association is only waiting for the remaining fifteen before accepting the offer.

A running track of about five or six laps to the mile is to be built of cinders, and later on a baseball diamond.

At present the high school boys have to go to Recreation Park for practice.

By joining the Y. M. C. A. the high school boys will not only have their athletic field nearer the school, but will have first-class training quarters with showers, swimming tank, bath, rub-down tables and lockers at their disposal.

John H. Fee, the physical instructor, will hold a high school gymnasium class twice a week up to the time of training in early February, in order that all trackmen may get into good form before the season opens.

Dr. Wallace has been secured to give medical examination on Friday evening from 8 to 9:30 o'clock. Men can be accommodated at this time. A small fee will be charged.

SOCIALISTS AND STRIKE

Leader Bebel Discusses It as a Weapon.

Calls Suggestion of Strike as Means of Russian Intervention Childish.

MANNHEIM, Germany, Sept. 26.—Herr Bebel, the Socialist leader, in a speech at today's session of the Socialist convention, on a suggestion that German intervention in Russian affairs ought to be followed by a general strike of Socialists, as a counter stroke, said that such a step on the part of the German government was an impossibility, adding:

"Certainly, Emperor William, Chancellor Von Buelow, all the reactionists and the middle classes, are on the side of the Russian Emperor and the Russian government and wish that the Russian revolution may be beaten down. But it is a mighty step from such a wish to the deed. The experiences of 1922 are not encouraging. Today Prussia stands not with a world coalition for her, but directly against her. Germany, by intervening in Russia, would unleash a world war, from the unforeseeable consequences of which those holding the reins shrink with horror."

Herr Bebel alluded to Herr Neuwirth's theory that a general strike might be used as a weapon of war as a weapon to compel peace, as being childish. He said that the masses, in the excitement of the outbreak of war, would not think of a general strike, but only of the war. Bebel did not believe that a general strike would win in Russia under any circumstances at present, but this did not exclude the idea as a possible weapon in the future.

Herr Legien, president of the general committee of the trades unions, said he regarded even the discussion of a general strike as revealing the weakness of the workingmen's position.

CANNON WAS INTERVIEWED

Speaker of the House Was Non-Committal.

We Will Maintain Order in Cuba, But Annexation Is Different.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 26.—Speaker Joseph C. Cannon spoke to an audience here this afternoon which overflowed the theater in which he appeared.

In an interview given out here, Cannon said the Democrats who declare Roosevelt to be the best Democrat who ever sat in the White House are like the devil when he offered Christ all the kingdom of the earth if the Saviour would do his bidding.

"The devil claimed all the earth, but he did not own a damn foot of it," said Cannon.

Before he began to speak, Cannon was asked if he was going to discuss Gompers.

"Gompers? What's he running for?" replied the speaker.

"I am going to try to make a Republican speech, and if I refer to Mr. Gompers it will be only in the delivery of a Republican speech."

"How about the Cuban question?"

"I have not paid much attention to that question," said Cannon. "The Platt amendment pledges us to maintain law and order in Cuba. We will do that."

"And if it is necessary to annex Cuba to it, we will annex," interpolated Congressman Watson.

"That's Watson speaking now," said Cannon, smiling. "I don't say that. I merely say that this government is pledged to maintain law and order there, and we will take such steps as may be necessary, and I don't wish to discuss them. Tools rush in where angels fear to tread, when the angels don't happen to be well posted on a question. Mr. Taft is down there in Cuba, and I have confidence in our President to meet the situation."

BELL HONORED BY THE EAGLES

Fresno Aerie Receives their Grand Vice President.

Distinguished Visitor Adresses Members at Reception.

Fresno Eagles turned out in full strength last night to welcome on their arrival here, Theo. A. Bell, the Supreme Vice President of the Order and Democratic candidate for governor. The aerie met at the hall of the order and after holding an informal meeting, were served with their hedges and regalia and marched in a body to the Southern Pacific depot under the leadership of W. D. President Herbert F. Briggs. The procession had many out of town Eagles who came in to be present at the welcome, and all lined up as the train steamed in the station.

As the deafening yell of welcome rent the air from the throats of the waiting Eagles, and he was borne off to a carriage in waiting, where he briefly responded to the felicitations showered upon him. The vehicle then drove off to the Hughes hotel, and the lodgement dispersed to convene again one hour later at the grand reception in the hotel.

The lobby of the hotel was crowded when the reception commenced, and a band outside vied with the cheery discord of scores of small hand bells rung by guests inside, in making the visitor known that he was welcome. The members of the aerie formed a square around him, and after being cordially welcomed, he addressed the gathering. President Bell is an earnest speaker with a clear, well-carrying voice. He spoke in part as follows:

"It certainly does me good to meet aerie 39, and to greet you all personally. The pleasure, however, is heightened by the warm, but informal manner in which you have done me the honor of your welcome by treating me just as I really am—one of yourselves, a fellow bird—and with no suggestion of demonstration bearing upon any mission which I may have in your city."

"Permit me to congratulate you upon the growth of your aerie. It is a credit to the Raisin City and to the order. Aerie No. 39, as one of the father branches of the Eagles, is entitled to distinction on that account alone; but the good work of the aerie has also merited favorable comment."

After speaking of the work of the Eagles since his connection with the order, and dwelling with pleasure upon the proud honor done him in selecting him from many to fill the next highest post of honor as supreme vice president, Mr. Bell went on to speak of the spirit of good fellowship, benevolence, and brotherly love which animates the order and acts as a powerful cohesion of purpose among its brethren.

"When the Fraternal Order of Eagles," he said, "first came into existence it was not understood; but when, later men flocked to its ranks from every state in the union, and beyond, it grew into one of the mightiest orders of the day, and the order world wants to know what it is that holds together the members in their indissoluble tie of strength and unity. The answer may be easily given. It is because of the equality and broad spirit of generosity which permeates through the order from the oldest aerie chartered, to the last initiated brother. It is more than 'Eagles' in brand, it does not stop at the mad, merry, rollicking hours of the social sessions. It does not stop when the meeting is over, and the brothers disperse. Eagleism is there in the heart of every single man who has entered its ranks. The tenets of its grand mission of fraternity and love and charity are in the home, on the street, at the sick bed, through life to death. And when the grave closes the fleeting scenes of a departed brother other brothers of the mighty family are there to honor the ashes in the name of the order, and solace the bereaved ones left behind."

"Eagles are gathered together from the rank and file of life. Taken from the plain masses, they constitute in themselves a plain mass of equality. Patriotic to the core, they have nothing selfish in their strength and unity, but diffuse it to the nation. If call to arms were sounded throughout the land to help our army and navy, it is safe to say that our aeries would be depleted by brothers willing and eager to drive the foe from the starry banner. And so it is with other things, the members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles stand ready to live their lives of utility to Americans. Kindly in intent and helpful of purpose, they are fraternal in the fullest sense of the word."

"But I do not want to take up your time in a speech. What I do want is to grasp the hand of every 'bird' here, and tell him how glad I am to meet him as a brother Eagle."

The assembled Eagles then passed around slowly and each exchanged a few cordial words with the distinguished guest with a hearty handshake.

BEERIES AND WEARIES ATTEND JUDGE'S LEVEE

Usual Sprinkling of Petty Offenders Show Up at Lower Court

Yesterday's lower court session had a sprinkling of minor charges which were disposed of by Judge Briggs in a short time, with the usual drags of judicial medicine.

W. Phillips who was arrested by Policeman Cronkite for driving too fast in an alley, was released on a suspended sentence. Joe Roscoe, a chauffeur who exceeded the speed limit with his auto, got fined $5. William Green, arrested for riding on the sidewalk by Officer Goehring, said $3 was nothing to him. He will be brought up today.

A. E. Carey is the old man who got a drop too much and tried to shove people off the sidewalk on Tuesday. He was released on suspended sentence. Louis Mariani, another captive of Officer Bradley, was handed $10 or 10 days for drunkenness. F. L. Putnam, arrested by Policeman Fair, was dismissed with a caution to behave. W. Ross, who was gathered in by Officer Aubrey, got off with like ceremony. E. Tajitjak and F. Arnold, hoboes, each got 10 days.

William Shaw appeared in Judge Smith's court to answer a charge of drunkenness. He worked in a saloon, and on Tuesday afternoon took the day off to enjoy a festive little time by himself. He wandered into a saloon, spot of the winery and drank up a couple of quarts of state wine, being discovered hopelessly drunk a couple of hours later. He was released with an admonition.

KILLED BY A FALLING WALL

Fatality Attends the Work of Removing Debris.

San Francisco Laborers Were Caught Under Mass of Toppling Masonry.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—A section of a ruined wall at the corner of Kearney and Pine streets collapsed this afternoon, burying a number of workmen under it. One of them, Camillo Sato, was crushed to death under a huge mass of masonry. Three other workmen who were dragged out were found to be badly injured. A crowd of policemen, firemen and laborers tore frantically at the mass of debris with picks and their hands. Meanwhile a second wall behind the one which had fallen threatened to fall at any moment. Several times the crowd watching on the street above saw it move and shouted a warning to the rescuers.

The rescuers stuck to their work, even when a mass of the threatening wall toppled down beside them. One of the men who were fighting frantically to remove the pile of debris was M. Rosario, brother-in-law of the man who was killed.

Two of the injured men, Martin Bolivar, living at the Swiss hotel, on Broadway, and John Samoriz, of Camp No. 10, Potrero, were removed to the Central emergency hospital. Bolivar was cut over the eyes, while his companion had his instep lacerated. On having their wounds dressed the men were removed to their homes.

There were in all fifteen working under the wall when it began to topple. Nearly all of them were Italians. They thought there was no danger in the work they were doing, though they were practically undermining the wall and gradually bringing it down upon themselves.

Shortly after 1 o'clock, Rosario, who was standing a little apart from the rest of the workmen, happened to look up. He gave a yell of alarm. There was a wild scramble backward. Sato tripped over a pile of debris and fell on his face. A mass of brick rolled down upon him, pinning him down. Sato's head and shoulders protruded from the ton or more of masonry which buried him. Although his life was not crushed out instantly, he lived but a short time after the wall fell.

Uncle Sam's Printery and the Simplified Spelling

Greatest Establishment of the Kind In the World.
Public Printer Stillings and His Army of Employees

THE GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE AND PUBLIC PRINTER C. A. STILLINGS.

UNCLE SAM'S great printing office is now "simplifying" spelling as a result of President Roosevelt's order, and Charles A. Stillings, the head of the establishment, is the man upon whom falls the responsibility of seeing that those changes are made, through, list, kiss, etc. There are 300 changed words that have received the endorsement of the simplified spelling board and the nation's chief executive, and in all White House documents they must appear in their new form. Public Printer Stillings has had many troubles since he accepted the nation's printing portfolio. Congress criticized him severely just before it adjourned, and now the president has added to his worries by giving him a new "style." Authoritative graybeards in his office who for years have decided all disputed questions of spelling must now compete for supremacy with young employees who, by this time, are doubtless able to write the 300 simplified words forward, backward and upside down.

Stillings heads what the consensus of expert opinion describes as "the most important and most enormous printing plant the world has ever seen." He is the boss of more than 4,000 men, women and girls, many of them high salaried specialists.

The annual payroll is $3,000,000, and over 750 tons of type are set in a year. Three hundred presses are needed for the work involved, and they are said to be able to run off an average of 1,000,000 impressions a day.

"Why does Uncle Sam require such an enormous plant?"

Well, to tell the truth, this relative of the nation is a bit proud of his wide interests, is somewhat conceited and is not inclined to economize unduly at all times. He spreads broadcast government reports of all sorts; prints the enactments of congress, the Congressional Record, the president's messages, stationery for all branches of the governmental service and dozens of other varieties of matter deemed necessary in the conduct of public affairs.

A year ago Congressman Charles B. Landis of Indiana was a leading figure in an investigating committee that probed deeply into the expenditures of the government printery. Various reforms were put into effect, and some of the authorities in Washington aver that there is still more room for improvement. At the time of the investigation Congressman Landis said:

"In every department of the government, as well as in both houses of congress, there is extravagance, recklessness and shameful waste in the matter of public printing."

The present government establishment is located on the northwest corner of North Capitol and G streets, Washington. It cost more than $4,000,000 to build and covers an acre and two-thirds of ground adjacent to the old printery. Ten million bricks were used in the new building, together with 12,000,000 pounds of steel. The building towers above the sidewalk to an average height of 130 feet, and 370 steel columns enable its floors to bear the enormous weight of 85,000,000 pounds. It requires 7,000 electric bulbs to light the interior.

An idea of the tremendous volume of work done and of matter sent out may be realized when it is known the waste paper collected about the institution and sold brings in a yearly sum of $30,000.

There are enormous storerooms for the stock of material kept on hand, which is probably greater in amount than can be found in any similar establishment in the world. In the regular course of business the printers use about fifteen tons of paper a day. An inventory of some of the material in daily use in the printing office in ordinary amounts on hand include 8,000 tons of paper, 37,000 pounds of glue, 4,000 packs of gold leaf, 75,000 square feet of Russian leather, 36,000 sheepskins for binding the statutes of the United States, 5,000 gallons of lubricating oil, 10,000 pounds of printer's ink, 20,000 pounds of roller composition, 11,000 Turkey morocco skins, 11,000 gallons of benzine, 6,000 pieces of book muslin and 3,600 yards of canvas.

The United States government does more printing than any other nation in the world. The most remarkable job ever turned out by the Washington institution, and one which is regarded as the record breaker of the world, was the publication of the report of the congressional committee which investigated the busling incidents at West Point a few years ago. This manuscript was delivered to Captain Henry Hylan, foreman of printing, about 6 o'clock one Saturday evening, and on Monday morning three volumes of 2,000 printed pages were upon the desks of members of the house of representatives, who wanted to refer to the testimony in the debate that was to take place that day upon the Military academy appropriation bill. The edition was a small one, so that the presswork was limited, but 10,000 copies could as well have been printed, stitched and bound in the same time.

Another record breaker in the printing line was the report of the court of inquiry on the Maine disaster. The manuscript was received after 6 o'clock one evening, and a volume of 300 pages, with twenty-five illustrations, was delivered at the navy department at the opening of office hours the next morning. Twenty-four of the illustrations were half-tone, one being colored, which required two impressions.

Some years ago the Revised Statutes of the United States, a volume of 1,000 quarto pages, was put in type, printed and bound in sheep between Wednesday night and Saturday noon. No other printing office in the world could have done the job in that time.

One of the small presses prints 6,000 cards (on both sides) every hour. There are four envelope presses that turn out 10,000 printed envelopes an hour.

Public Printer Stillings is a Bostonian and a son of General E. B. Stillings, who was adjutant general on the staff of the late Commander in Chief Blackman of the G. A. R. He is a friend of Senator Crane of Massachusetts, who, it is said, secured his appointment when Frank W. Palmer resigned. Stillings was manager of the Printers' Board of Trade of New York when he was appointed public printer by President Roosevelt.

It is related that soon after he took the office Mr. Stillings gave strict orders to his doorkeeper to hold up all callers who were bent upon seeing him, even if they came on public business. Soon thereafter a man got into the sacred presence unannounced, and, according to the narrator, Mr. Stillings roared at him, "How did you get in here?" The visitor did not seem to be much alarmed, and instead of replying asked another question, "Are you the public printer?" Mr. Stillings again demanded, "I want to know how you got in here." The caller replied calmly, "If you are the public printer I would like to introduce myself and possibly make a few remarks. My name is Dick. I am from Ohio and happen to be a United States senator with business here." Whereupon the public printer lost all of his anger and most of his dignity.

WILSON GRANT.

Inventor Thomas A. Edison, Who Doesn't Care What Time It Is; A Busier Man Today Than When He Was Struggling For Success

THOMAS A. EDISON is a busier man today than when, as an unknown genius, he was struggling for recognition. With the advancement that has been made in the field of science and especially the department of electricity, in which he himself has played no small part, Edison looks forward to still more wonderful discoveries, if not by himself, then by others, but there is nobody working harder to solve the new problems than Edison.

"All things come to him who hustles while he waits," the "electrical wizard" once said to me. That is the keynote of his success. Edison never gives up trying. Always experimenting, failure following failure, he never desponds. At odd moments Edison still works on problems that he decided could be done twenty years ago. He has attacked them in many ways and from many different standpoints, but he is always hustling while he waits.

Speaking of Edison's odd moments, one might imagine that he has certain times for relaxation. Edison seldom permits himself any relaxation except when he goes to bed, which is at irregular intervals and for uncertain lengths of time. Even Sunday, on which day he persuades Mrs. Edison he is resting, he spends principally in the library of his pretty home at Llewellyn park, West Orange, N. J.

It may not be generally known that Edison does not wear a watch.

"What is the use?" he replied, with a surprised smile when I asked him about this peculiarity one day in his laboratory. "I don't care what time it is. When I am endeavoring to accomplish something it would be an annoyance to know that the time is passing so rapidly. My plan has been to hustle and never mind the time."

Edison did not say that boastfully. He is, in fact, a very unassuming man. He knows his own powers, and he knows even better his limitations. But despite his sixty years he is still the same indefatigable worker that he has always been. He does not know what it is to be tired. That is the only complaint his assistants in his laboratory have to make. His ideas of work are so enormous that his men have difficulty in keeping up to the pace that he sets. Not that it is the "wizard's" plan to get all the work possible out of a man for the money he pays him. There is nothing mercenary about Edison, but he cannot sympathize with a man who is tired, because he does not know what it means himself. He will let an employee off to go to a baseball game, but not because he is tired.

Edison cares little for money. While experimenting he never wonders how much money a new discovery or invention will bring him. That question does not come into his mind until it is almost time to sell it. In his laboratory, or "workshop," as he calls it, his one idea is to create something, many things.

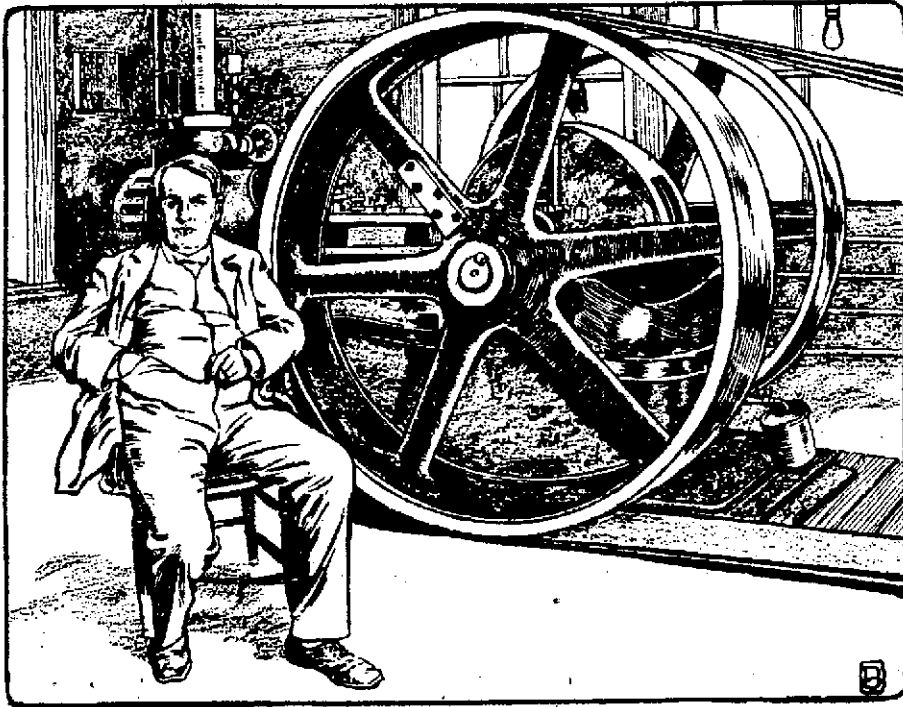

What Edison is working on the hardest at the present time is to reduce the cost of electrical motive power. He has thought several times during the last few years that he has reached a solution. Today he is more positive than ever. He hopes to reduce the weight of storage batteries at least one-half and at the same time increase their power. "I can reduce the cost of city traffic 65 per cent," said Edison in speaking of the benefits that would result from his new discovery. "Automobiles will be run by electricity, and many more of them will be built than are being built now, for their cost will be within the reach of many persons who cannot afford to own them now. Electric vehicles have been under a great handicap because of the very heavy storage batteries we were forced to put in them and also on account of their expense. Before long automobiles will not be considered a luxury."

How to overcome the present waste in extracting the energy of coal is another problem that has given Mr. Edison much occasion for thought. It is well known that 85 per cent of the energy that is contained in coal is lost under the present method of burning it. Mr. Edison is confident that before many years somebody will have discovered a new method whereby the waste will be reduced to a minimum. Then, instead of carting the coal long distances, power houses will be built at the coal mines, the coal turned into electricity and the latter distributed over wires to all parts of the country.

Absorbed in this and many other great mysteries, Edison works hour after hour, and day after day. His employees get a Saturday half holiday the year round, but after after they are gone he works far into the night. The one person who is not afraid to break in upon the preoccupation which accompanies his intense and sustained concentration of attention to the work at hand is Mrs. Edison. If it were not for her he would never take any recreation. But when the success of some laboratory undertaking seems near, she, too, leaves the "wizard" alone. When he was perfecting the phonograph he went nearly a week without sleep.

Does he enjoy life? This is what he replied to that question:

THOMAS A. EDISON AND HIS FIRST DYNAMO.

"I work a good many hours a day, but on things in which my whole heart is wrapped up, I don't worry, and I'm fond of fun. I like good company as much as I dislike 'high society.' I avoid functions and men whose main object in life is to get rich. I take a little outdoor exercise, but I don't play golf. Yes, I certainly enjoy life as much as anybody does."

CARL WINTERS.

A RUSSIAN CELEBRITY.

Prince Kropotkin, the famous Russian exile, is one of the few who have ever succeeded in escaping from that grim stronghold the bastille of St. Petersburg, known as the Fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul. Personally the prince is a man of the simplest tastes and highest ideals and by all who know him is not less loved than he is respected. In a little cottage of the simplest kind in a Kentish town he has lived for years the existence of a student, and no one unacquainted with the facts would ever dream that this thoughtful, gentle, courteous savant with the thin, nervous hands and the scholar's stoop was the dangerous firebrand and revolutionary who he is supposed to be in Russia.

IDEAL WIVES.

The Burmese woman must make an excellent wife. A Singapore paper says that her highest ambition is to maintain her husband in lordly idleness and to supply him with abundant funds for cock fighting, bullock cart racing and gambling. And many of the Burmese women do big deals in timber, buying up in advance the "ready" crops of a whole district, and so on on a scale that requires big financing.

Sir William Van Horne, Famed as "The Yankee Knight"

SIR WILLIAM VAN HORNE has thrown down the gauntlet to James J. Hill. There are great things to be known, a war between the Canadian Pacific railway, led by Sir William, and the Great Northern railway, of which Mr. Hill is the president. It will not be a mere war of rate cutting, nor will it consist of skirmishes in the stock markets. It will be a long drawn out battle in which the heavy artillery of both sides will be brought into play. It will be directed by two of the greatest railroad men of the continent, Sir William and Mr. Hill.

In reply to the announcement that the Great Northern planned to build a Canadian line from the Pacific ocean to Winnipeg, Manitoba, to be run in opposition to the Canadian Pacific, Sir William said:

"Two miles of line in the interest of the Canadian Pacific will be built in Great Northern territory to every mile that Mr. Hill builds in the territory of the Canadian Pacific."

Sir William, now chairman of the board of directors of the Canadian Pacific railway, is the leading figure in Canadian railroad circles today. In fact, the Canadian people declare he is "without doubt the first railroad man in the world."

Canadians are proud of him, and they talk confidently of what Sir William will do to Mr. Hill. The Canadian people may be right, for Sir William was born and bred in the United States, where country has always led the world in railroad development. He became a British subject only through force of circumstances, after the Canadian Pacific came to the United States for a man to do what no railroad man in Canada seemed capable of doing or had the courage to attempt, and that was to push the lines of that company across 2,000 miles of mountainous and unsettled plains country, from Winnipeg to the Pacific coast.

No one can say that good luck has put Sir William Van Horne where he is, except that good luck which always goes hand in hand with energy and ability. He was born near Joliet, Ill. He left a farm at the age of fourteen to peddle candy, fruit and hocks on the Illinois Central railroad. Soon he became a messenger boy, and he applied himself to the study of telegraphy. It was not long before he was an expert. Whatever he learned he learned thoroughly. He became known to his official superiors as a reliable man. No matter what the task given to him, he accomplished it with a promptness that was surprising even in the "boom days" of the hustling west and with a thoroughness that was still more surprising.

After he had become division superintendent of the Chicago and Alton railroad he was informed one day that he must take charge of a difficult piece of construction work if he had confidence in his ability to handle it. Van Horne announced that he was very willing to undertake the work.

"When will you be ready to begin?" asked the president of the road.

"Tomorrow morning," replied Van Horne.

AS TRAIN BOY.

SIR WILLIAM VAN HORNE.

BEING KNIGHTED.

Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, which he held two years. Then he went to the Canadian Pacific as general manager.

Van Horne knew full well what was expected of him in his new post. The road was not then completed to Vancouver, and there was a great gap between Winnipeg and the Pacific ocean. It was up to Van Horne to fill that gap. Many Canadians refused to believe that the feat could be accomplished. Various administrators of the Canadian government had tried and failed. Various contractors had sunk millions of dollars in the project, but hundreds of capitalists, politicians, settlers, manufacturers and merchants were clamoring for the completion of the road.

Van Horne asked the government how much land or other securities were to the credit of the company upon which cash could be raised. He was informed that he had under his control 25,000,000 acres of land and about 800 miles of completed road on which he ought to get something, but no cash from the government.

Within the next ten days Van Horne either personally saw or communicated by wire or letter with fifty of the wealthiest capitalists of the United States, England and Canada. He pledged to build in five years this contract with the government for the completion of the road allowed him (ten) and also repay them in the same time any advances they might make if they would finance the construction work. His guarantee was practically no more than his private word, but the Van Horne word was pretty well known, even at that time.

At the end of the ten days Van Horne commanded $10,000,000 in cash. Four days later construction work was begun. In four and one-half years the road was completed. The first $10,000,000 and $15,000,000 Van Horne had borrowed later for the work was either paid back or was well protected.

The Yankee who had opened up the great British northwest to settlers, who had made a path for commerce to the Pacific ocean and had given Great Britain a line by which she could throw across a continent an army at the rate of 3,000 men and their equipment per day, was knighted by Queen Victoria.

Sir William is beloved by his subordinates because he is both just and reasonable. In private life he is a man of quiet tastes. He is noted as a botanist and has in his conservatory at Montreal one of the finest collections of orchids in the world. Painting and music are two of his hobbies.

But all his brilliant success, great wealth and knightly honors do not weigh heavily upon him. He still has a merry disposition and is today something of a practical joker. Neither has his head been turned. Only a few days after he had been knighted the Yankee in him came out when he exclaimed to a group of friends:

"This 'Sir William' business is very fine, but I'd like to hear what the boys down in Chicago will have to say about it. They always used to call me just plain Bill."

SIWASHES WIN IN FAST GAME

Rube Vickers Was Too Much for Fresno.

Raisin Eaters Lose, 6-0—New Umpire Has Voice Like a Fog Horn.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

Portland	87	50	.635
San Francisco	75	64	.539
Seattle	73	66	.525
Los Angeles	75	69	.520
Oakland	65	81	.445
Fresno	54	96	.360

In the fastest game of ball that has been played in the Pacific Coast league this season, Seattle yesterday beat the Raisin Eaters by a score of 6 to 0. The game took just one hour and fourteen minutes to play. It was Rube Vickers' superior work in the box that was responsible for Fresno's defeat.

Aside from the rapidity of play the game was devoid of any sensational features. A pretty left handed back catch of a high fly by Casey on the run in the eighth inning was the feature of the game. McLaughlin made another pretty running catch in the last inning, but these were the only two sensational fielding stunts by either team. Seattle started in the first inning. Fitzgerald walked. "Wee, Johnnie" Kneel and Van Buren sacrificed him to second. Blankenship knocked a hot one to short and Trush got it on the run but dropped it again. Householder put a hot one straight through the diamond and Kane crossed the rubber. Croll knocked a safe one to the right garden and Blankenship scored. Streib knocked one to Delmas and both he and Croll went out on a pretty double play. Delmas to Cartwright to Dashiwood.

Vickers made a hit the second inning but a pretty one handed catch by Casey prevented any damage. Householder got another hit in the third but it netted the Siwashes nothing.

A long two-bagger by Streib followed by safe hits by Kane and Vickers in the fourth gave Seattle two more runs.

Fitz steadily down after the fourth and it was one two three order for the Indians until the eighth. In that inning, he in the first, it started off with a walk. Blankenship waited until Fitz had put four wild ones near the plate and took his base. Householder followed with a hit over the right field fence bringing in Blankenship and landing on the "red sack. Streib's hit to right brought him in. Dashiwood made a pretty catch of a high foul and Casey made his sensational catch back of second, stopping off then Seattle's bunch for the day.

Rube was at his best yesterday afternoon. Fresno only touched him for two hits, one in the fourth and one in the eighth. Rube walked only one man and struck out seven.

It was one two three and out for the Raisin Eaters in all but two innings and these two times it really looked for an instant as though Fresno might have a chance to speak a man over the rubber. Casey led off in the fourth with a safe hit through short but went out at second on a fielder's choice that let Doyle on first. McLaughlin put one in Householder's mitt and then Trush got first on McKune's error. Delmas ended Fresno's fleeting hope by flying out to center field.

Dashiwood led off the eighth with a safe hit to center and went to second on a wild pitch by Rube. The fans thought that they and the big Indian going when he walked Happy Hogan and Fitzgerald knocked a long one to center field. Van Buren led to run a long way to get it but he copped it and Blankenship's catch of a very difficult foul ended the hopes of Fresno for a score.

The tale is told in the score:

Diamond Dust.
Derrick, the new umpire, made a hit at yesterday's game. He has the best voice of any umpire who has ever handled the indicator here and his announcements before the game and during the play could be heard over the shouting rink above the roll of skates and the noise of the band. His decisions were also very satisfactory. On balls and strikes he is accurate and he is not afraid to move around a little to see what is happening on bases.

Speaking of dissatisfaction with the umpire, "Bill" Croll started to make an objection to one of Derrick's decisions yesterday and he was promptly called down by Kane Hall from the bench. Mike says that he and Hall have agreed personally to stand all lines imposed upon the players of the two teams for abusive language and that means, of course, that no player will be allowed to say bad things to the umpire. Hall's action yesterday afternoon in calling down Croll seemed rather incongruous coming as it did from one of the crankiest ball players that ever donned a uniform but it was received with applause by the spectators and the doing away with such performances as disgraced the local diamond in the first part of the season here, will undoubtedly have the effect of drawing larger crowds to the games.

Rube Vickers stopped several hot ones yesterday without leaving the box. It seemed so easy for him just to put out his big mitt and glow the ball. He started in to do the same thing with Dashiwood's hit in the eighth inning but changed his mind when the ball got near him. Rube just ducked and let the ball pass on.

Russ Hall is in hard luck. Last July, he hurt his knee in a collision with "Big Larry" McKeen at Portland and was just recovering when he happened to be in a street car accident in San Francisco two weeks ago. The manager of the Siwashes was laid up on crutches for two weeks and is now limping around. He may not be able to don a uniform this season.

Seattle brings five new men with her this time, Terry McKune, Garvin, Croll, Van Buren and Householder. McKune is well known here, having played with the valley league here last season. He was taken from Spokane. Garvin was here with Portland last time and Householder played the first of the season with the Seals. Van Buren played with Portland last year and Croll played with Seattle a while last fall. Both these men are big leaguers from the East.

McGregor and Hogan will be Fresno's battery today. McGregor has been doing some fine pitching of late. He was responsible for the two victories of the Raisin Eaters against Portland last week.

Oscar Jones will be on the slab for Seattle.

AT LOS ANGELES.—The ominous "27" adorning the local team's section of the score board proved a bad omen to Oakland today. Los Angeles defeating the visitors by the shut-out score of 5 to 0. Better batting and superior work in the outfield gave the locals their lead. Two double plays by the Angels and one by the Oaklanders featured an otherwise unexciting game. Noble hurt a finger in the first inning and was replaced by Bergman. Score:

LOYALIST MOVEMENT

Is Backed By Highland Park Church.

Its Adherents Put Principles
Above Property—Meeting
Tonight.

"We are not revolutionists; we are not sects; we are not to be disturbed by the material side of the question. We have no desire to disrupt or disband any of the Cumberland churches. We believe that those who want to join with the Presbyterian church should do so; that is a matter of individual preference. If the church property goes, too, that cannot be helped, but the question will rest with the courts. But for ourselves, we must worship according to our own faith and our conscience and without our consent we cannot be resolved into a church, whose doctrines we cannot accept."

A meeting of the loyalists is called for the ninth Methodist church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting is called in the Methodist church so as not to embarrass the trustees of the Cumberland church. At Thursday's meeting of the loyalists, a council was organized with Rev. Clark of Viantha as president and Rev. Gordon of Selma as president. Tonight the meeting will discuss the best course to pursue in this city.

In the Eastern and Southern states the question of church union is waxing a good deal warmer than in this state, and in the other states many injunctions have been taken out and are now in the courts. It is claimed that the unionists have taken out all the injunctions but one. The matter has not yet reached the court stage in this case. Yesterday morning the Cumberland state yet. There is not the feeling here, either, as the loyalists are greatly in the majority. The theological disputes do not appeal with the same force to the younger generation; on the other hand, the modern movement of consolidation for greater practical good does appeal strongly to them.
